WEICON

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS

CONRAD WEISER HIGH SCHOOL

ROBESONIA, PENNSYLVANIA

FOREWORD

This year the objective of our book is to highlight "OUR HERITAGE FROM CONRAD WEISER" which so many of us take for granted. Conrad Weiser was the foremost Pennsylvania German of his day and the strongest influence for peace between the Indians and the white men in all the English colonies. It is a challenge for all of us to live up to his good name and standards:

Born in Wurttemberg in 1696, Weiser came to New York with his father as a youth and spent several months as an adopted son of Quayant, a Mohawk chief in the Schoharie Valley. Coming to Pennsylvania in 1729 with his wife, he settled here below Eagle Peak in the Tulpehocken Valley. The next thirty-one years until his death in 1760 were busy indeed for this talented man, who was a farmer and a tanner, a founder of Reading and first president judge of Berks County, a monk at Ephrata Cloister and a pillar of the Lutheran Church, a lieutenant colonel in the French and Indian War and the grandfather of the famous John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, general in the American Revolution.

In addition to our school district as a whole, our yearbook is also named in honor of Conrad Weiser. Weicon has been formed by the first three letters of Weiser followed by the first three letters of Conrad. This name was originated by the 1940 senior class at Womelsdorf. Mr. William Burkhardt, now teaching at Reading High, was the English teacher and advisor. When the area jointure was formed in 1954, Weicon was chosen by a vote of the student body as the name for the yearbook. It was made official by the school board that year and so became one of the school traditions.

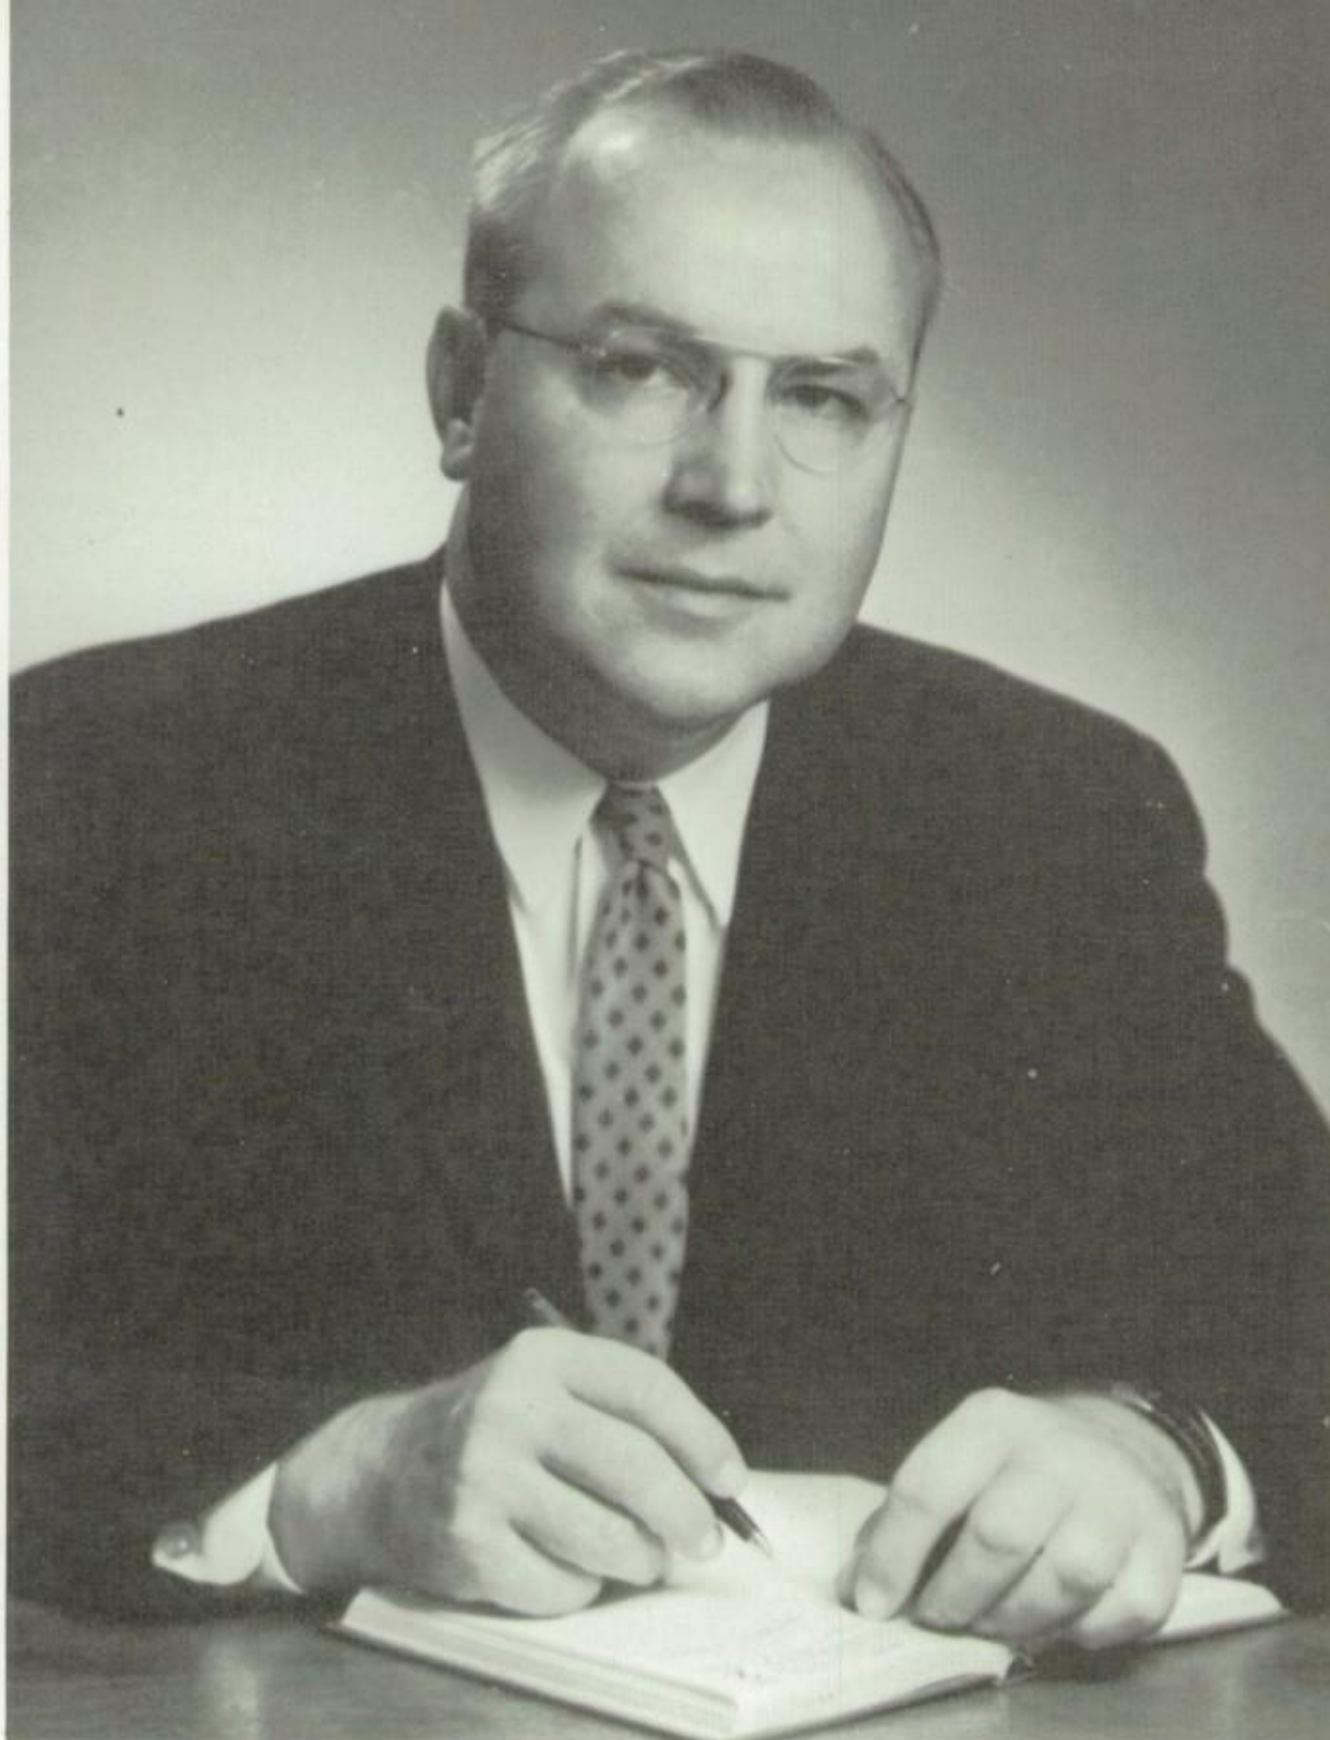

To carry out our theme this year, we have placed colored pictures of Weiser's homestead in the front and back of the book. The pictures on most of the divider pages were taken inside his house located in Conrad Weiser Memorial Park, Womelsdorf.

MR. WALTER A. ROHRBACH
SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

To the Seniors:

It is very appropriate that a senior class of the high school bearing his name should choose as their yearbook theme "Our Heritage from Conrad Weiser." Since school annuals become a part of the permanent records and the history of our school, this yearbook should serve as a reminder to future students of the grand inheritance which is theirs.

When we think of our heritage, we are, in plain language, reminding ourselves about what others who have lived before us have provided for our culture and use. President George Washington when standing at the grave in what is now Weiser Park said, "Posterity cannot forget his services." What is the heritage left by the illustrious Conrad Weiser that inspired these words?

History tells us this great man was a judge, an Indian-interpreter, a peacemaker, a treatymaker, and a provincial agent. What qualities must a man have to be successful in such ventures? One answer would have to be PERSONAL INTEGRITY AND A REPUTATION OF FAIR DEALING WITH EVERY ONE. We will continue to live in one of the finest communities we know if every graduate of the Conrad Weiser Area High School will weave this heritage into his own life.

Sincerely,

Walter A. Rohrbach

ADMINISTRATION & CURRICULUM

The true aim of every one who aspires to be a teacher should be, not to impart his own opinions, but to kindle minds.

-- F. W. Robertson

Dr. Willar, High School Principal, discusses yearbook transaction with Jane Master.

Our schools were named in honor of Conrad Weiser which indicates that this community felt that he did a lot for it. Naming our district after him was a way of showing appreciation. It would be well for all of us to review our history and refresh our memories as to our heritage. That was the purpose of the yearbook staff in selecting this topic. Many reasons for greatness will be found depending on one's background. Due to lack of space we shall dwell on only one point here and emphasize it. Conrad Weiser was a great interpreter to the Indians. This required not only translation of language but explaining the intent of one's words or actions so as to remove distrust. Usually when one understands other people we find them to be honorable people. With wars and rumors of wars being afloat in the world and atomic energy at our disposal we need men and women who can interpret actions tending to promote peace. The class of 1965 is asked to accept this challenge and do its part. Good Luck.

In his book, CONRAD WEISER -- PENNSYLVANIA PEACE-MAKER, Dr. Arthur D. Graeff presents the text of an address made by Weiser in 1741 when the small colony of Pa. was experiencing many internal difficulties. Weiser ended this appeal for support with these words. " . . . And that you may be directed by wisdom in your choice and that peace, love, truth, and goodwill amongst men prevail is the hearty prayer of your friend Conrad Weiser. "

Perhaps in this single sentence Conrad Weiser has given us the keys for living throughout all our lifetime. Look at his choice of words -- wisdom, peace, love, truth, goodwill and prayer. As you approach the adult phase of life it would be my earnest hope that in making daily decisions, in your relationships with others, and in the guidance of your children, all actions and words be tempered in the fire of these convictions spoken so many years ago by Conrad Weiser.

Mr. Dinger, Assistant High School Principal; and J. Hartranft look over sales records and publicity suggestions.

Your Heritage has created a way of living which conserves and produces as many values as possible over as long a time as possible
Old structures pass
All things change
To look to the meaning of civilization and culture that lie behind
To gather the essence of past contributions
into a new integration shaped to modern social needs is your task.
Best wishes to the Class of 1965.

ENGLISH IS STRESSED IN ALL GRADES

A college bound junior class concentrates on the English lesson.

Jeffrey Babb helps create Mr. Gruber's display on National Book Week.

The English teachers are Mrs. Winter, Miss Flickinger, Mr. Shaner, and Mr. Gruber.

THREE PHASE ENGLISH COURSE BEGINS AT C.W.

The twelfth grade listens to Mr. Shaner reading from Chaucer's CANTERBURY TALES, one of the many famous works studied in his literature class.

The senior high English department has taken another step in improving its program.

The college bound eleventh and twelfth grade students spend time with each of three teachers. Mr. Gruber teaches grammar; Mrs. Winter, creative writing; and Mr. Shaner, literature. Each teacher then gives these pupils intensive training in his own specific area.

Darryl Werner points out to Donna Matthew and David Lutz the location of the homes of English writers. English literature is part of the senior English course.

Jr. High Social Studies teachers are: Mr. R. Klingler, geography; Mr. E. Himmelberger, history; Mr. T. Golden, history; Mr. F. Friedman, geography.

HISTORY

From Past to Present

Eighth grade students review current events and keep up to date on world happenings in Mr. Himmelberger's history class.

Mr. Klingler points out significant geographical locations to R. Lutz, S. Zimmerman, and C. Zimmerman.

Sr. High history teachers: Mr. D. Seltzer, P.O.D.; Mrs. I. Suhr, American history; Mr. G. Jones, world culture; Mr. W. Seifarth, civics.

Is Brought to Life at C.W.

D. Weitzel, K. Gromis, B. Bressler, and J. Drexel review political campaign posters during the 1964 Presidential Campaign.

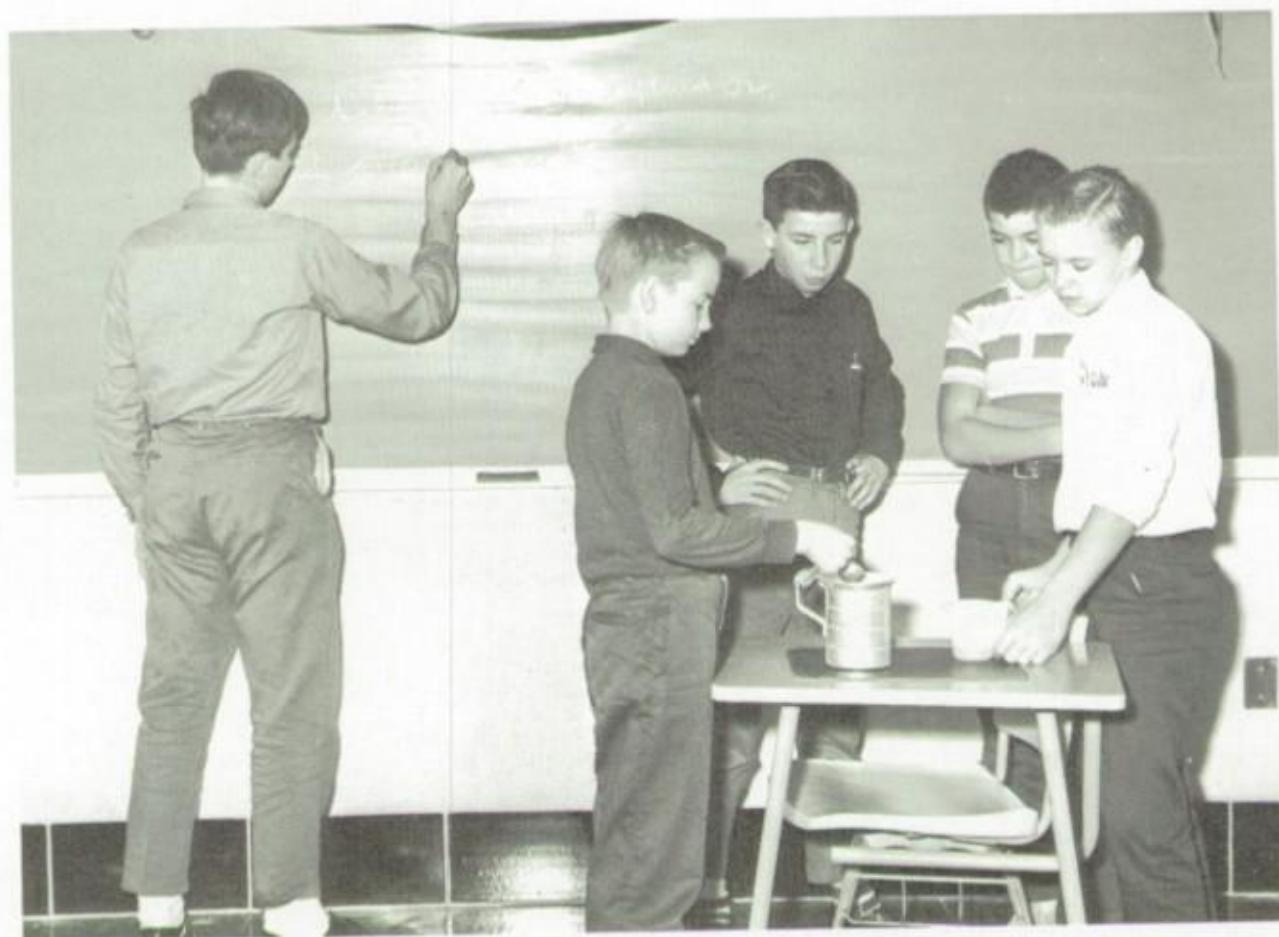

Conrad Weiser elects delegates for Model U.N. held at Albright College. STANDING are M. Elsworth, D. Trout, J. Bricker, C. Rudolff, M. Mohn, D. Bish, G. Baim, R. Hess, J. Knoll, J. Geiss, J. Grimes, G. Lutz, K. Decker, B. Lutz. SEATED are V. Brossman, A. Bentz, B. Corl, J. Spayd, C. Winand, E. Krott, S. Shoff.

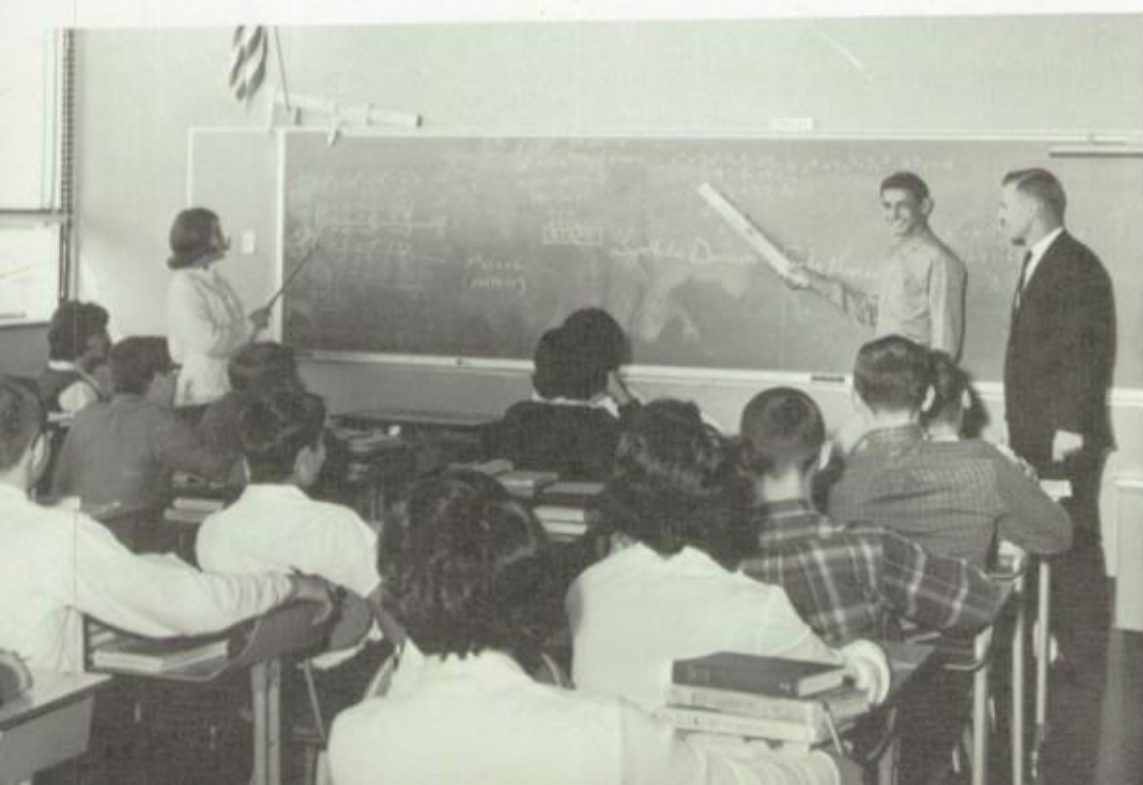

JUNIOR HIGH MATH

Concentrates
On Fundamentals

The Math Department consists of Mrs. Dinsmore, Mr. Reber, Mr. Henry, Mr. DeLong, and Mr. Hess.

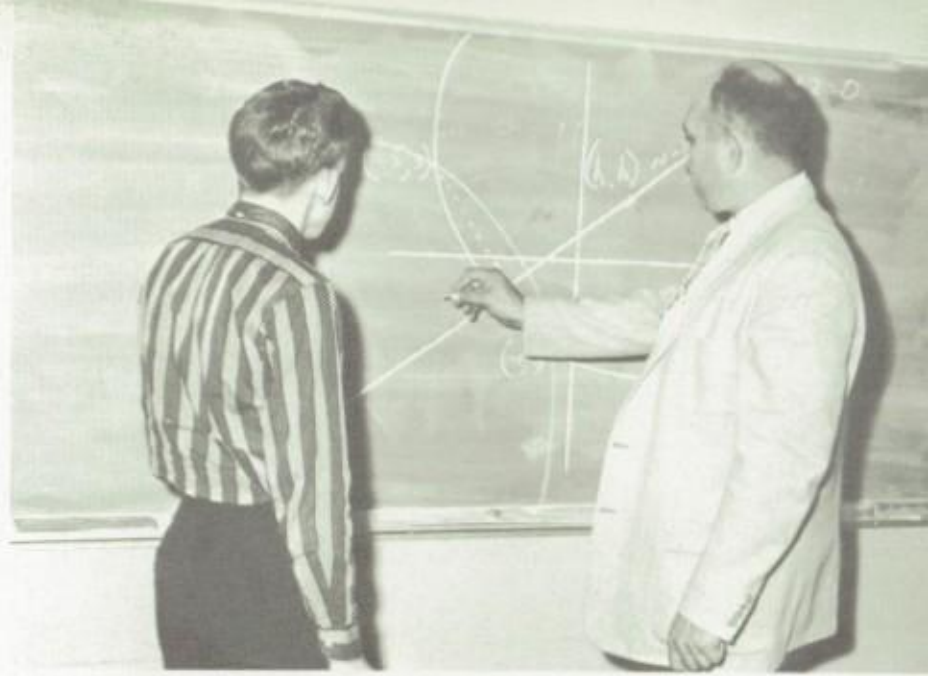

Junior High boys learn math through experimental reasoning. From left to right are Kurt Shanaman, Larry Ulrich, George Musser, Galen Stauffer, and Alan Douglas.

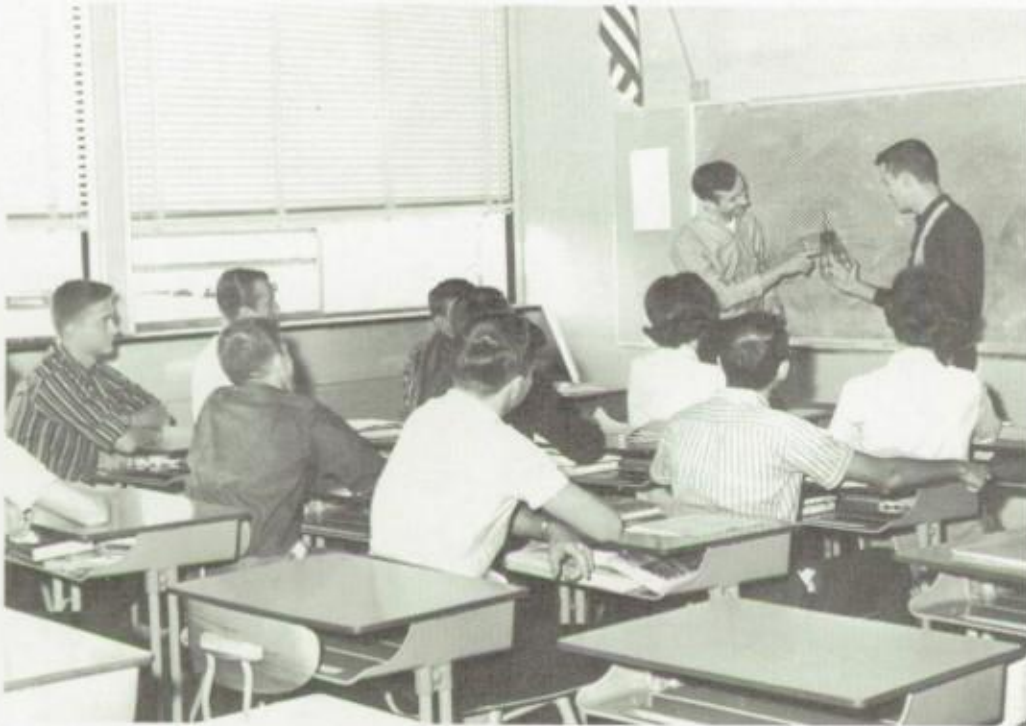

Mr. Reber's algebra students discover new methods of solving equations.

SENIOR HIGH MATH

Plays a Continually Increasing Role in This Age of Scientific Advancement

"Analytic geometry can be fun," as Mr. Hess demonstrates to Franklin Shearer.

Jay Miller and Jack Gaston show the class the reasoning behind a math problem.

"It's not as complicated as it looks." Mr. Lutz illustrates the use of the slide rule to Barry Henderson and James Grimes.

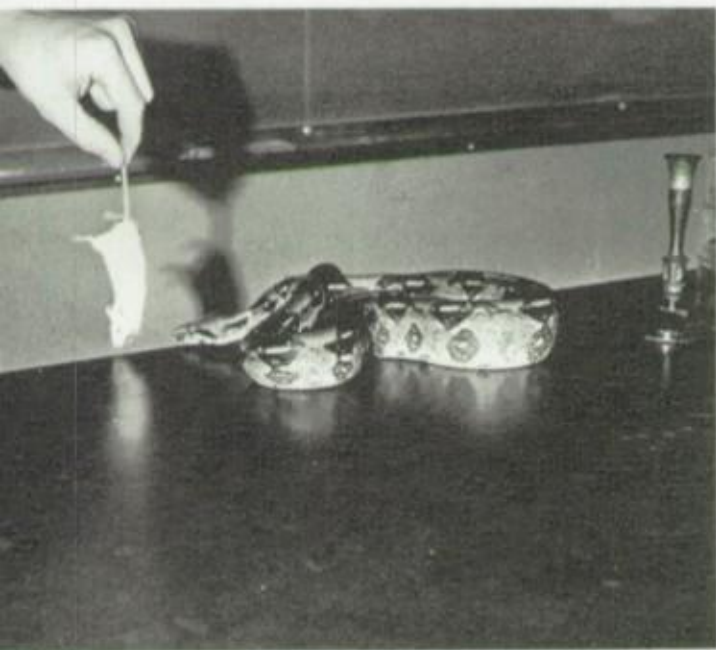

"Consumer math isn't all work." This peach experiment proves to be quite beneficial and tasty, too! Mr. Lutz, left, and Mr. Hess instruct Dennis Reber.

The science teachers are Mr. Gosch, physics; Mr. Schofer, science; Mr. Breininger, biology; Mr. Hardy, chemistry; and Mr. McComsey, science.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

"Lunch time" in biology class.

America's Future Scientists Emerge in School Science Classes

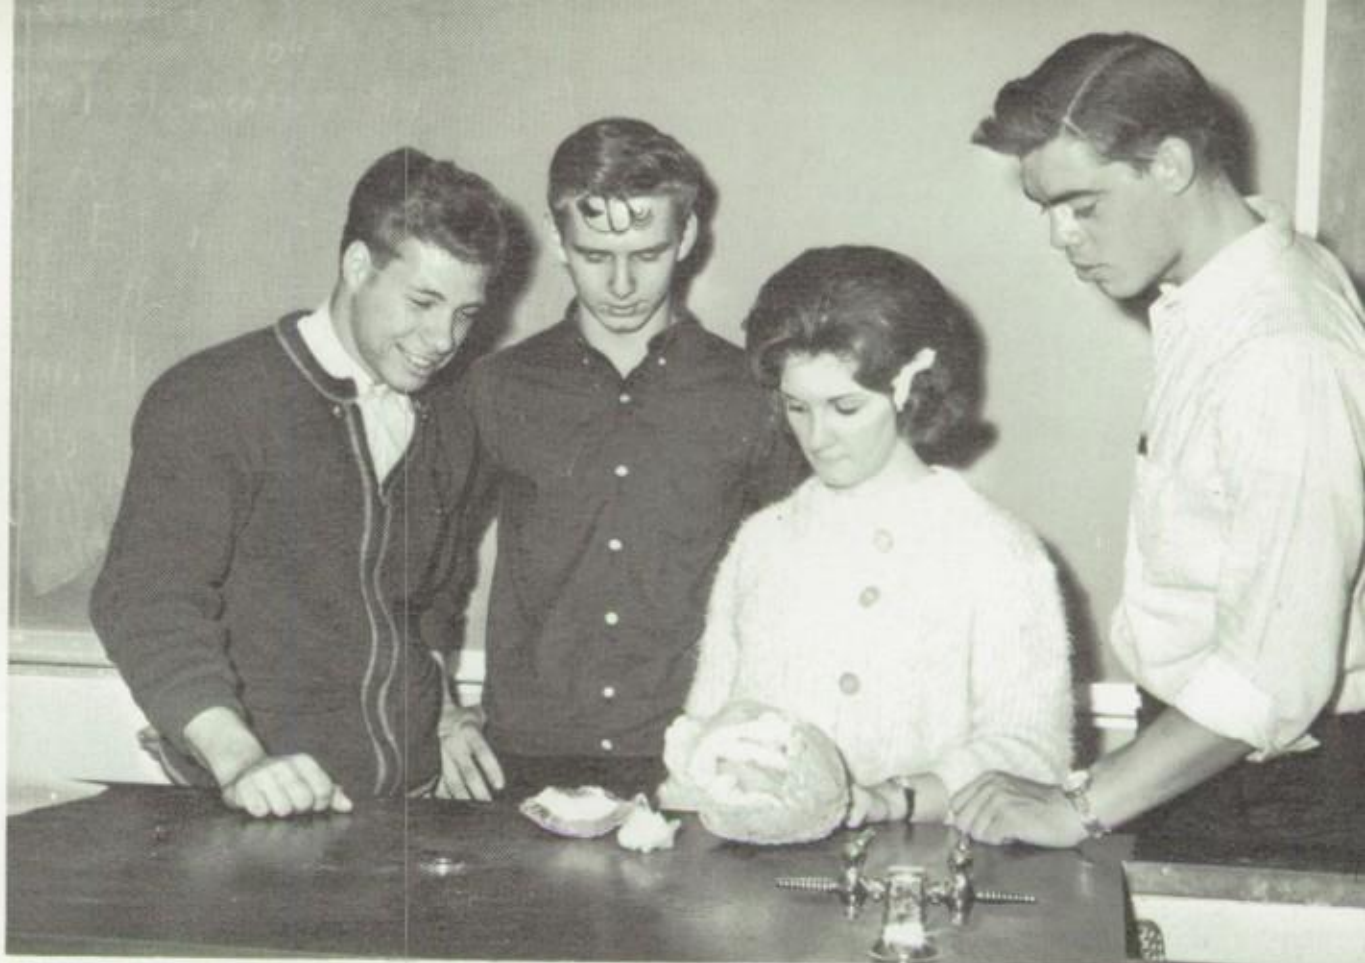

J. Bricker, L. Loy, S. Gruber, and J. Baily appraise a leaf collection made by some of the students. A collection is required of all students.

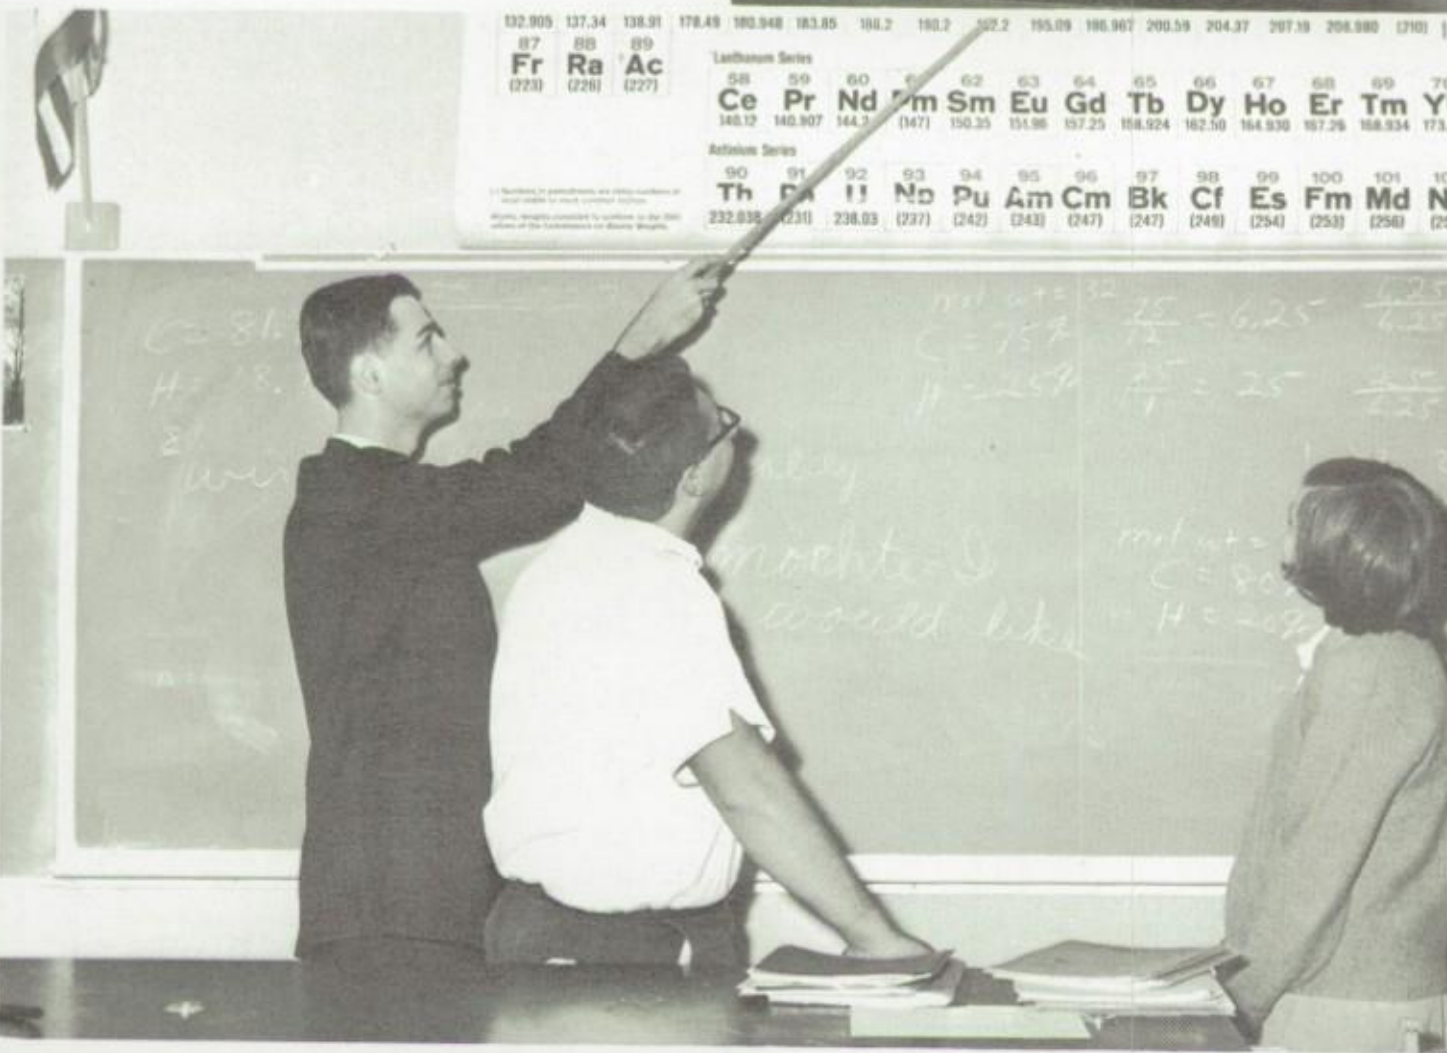

"Now here is quite an interesting specimen," says Mr. Beininger. Looking on are John Backenstose, John Deem, Brian Wingenroth, and Martin Mohn.

W. Long, J. Cox, D. Kissling, and K. Kapp all agree, "It's a very interesting specimen of rock." The rock is called Geode, a type crystal. It was acquired by Mr. Breininger near Penn State, Pa. It is part of his large personal collection. The students find it very fascinating.

"It is the symbol for platinum," says Mr. Hardy as J. Ranellone and V. Kintzer give their silent assent. Many charts and visual aids help to make the science labs interesting.

"Not too much, not too little, just right," explains C. Wilhelm to M. Shanaman, G. Adams, and B. Payne. Learning accurate and delicate weighing of chemicals is an important part of the science courses. Plenty of equipment and lots of patience is required of the young scientists.

Language teachers: Mrs. Laffredo, Jr. High German; Mrs. Behney, Latin; Miss Froelich, German; and Miss Anruzak, Spanish.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The Study of Foreign Languages Paves the Way to Better Understanding of Our Neighbors Across the Sea

John Grimes, Linda Meiser, and Peter Keppley polish their German accents under the supervision of Miss Froelich.

Fräulein Froelich's class absorbs a little Deutsch.

L. Werner, L. Ibach, P. Herzog, and G. Zerby examine articles from Spain.

Miss Andruzak explains the finer points of Spain's national sport to C. Bickel and D. Bagenstose.

S. Welker shows to D. Matthew and A. Reese that Latin lives today.

Presenting the Commercial Department faculty: Mrs. Himmelberger teaches bookkeeping and office practice; Miss Hagan, typing and business law; and Miss Hall, shorthand and typing.

CONRAD WEISER'S

Senior Commercial girls have the responsibility of operating the school store. In front are Bonnie Johnson, Janice Hornberger, and Judy Eiceman. Behind are Iva Price, Connie Shepherd, and Leona Flickinger.

Martha Endler shows senior girls how to operate the mimeograph machine. From left to right are Sheila Leonard, Linda Haag, Donna Huntley, and Bonnie Matlack. Both school and business firms use this service.

Mrs. Himmelberger helps senior girls improve their skills in bookkeeping.

Bookkeeping trains girls for future secretarial work.

Gail Ebersole gains valuable experience by practicing the use of the dictaphone.

Sandy Steffy, Carole Hartgen, and Karen Schwartz look on while Linda Hook figures out a problem on the adding machine.

FUTURE SECRETARIES

Pam Tobias demonstrates the use of the dictaphone to Beatrice Blatt and Gail McPike.

Senior girls discover how the ditto machine works. Lorraine Keppley, Donna Huntley, Pam Tobias, and Beatrice Blatt.

Carole Hartgen applies the skills she has learned.

Art Classes Explore Ceramics

Art is compulsory in grades 7 and 8. Later a student may choose to participate in the Art Curriculum, a program of 6 periods a week. In this advanced course the artist progresses at his own speed. Ceramics and three dimensional work is stressed in grade 10. This phase is very popular with the "art set." Pictured here are some of the interesting procedures of clay work. Original creative pieces are stressed by the instructor.

Mr. Thomas Alexander, instructor.

Shown above is an original drawing design, and a brisque fired piece of the final work. The finished 5 ft. mural of ceramic work will be placed on the wall at the rear of our auditorium. It is part of Mr. Alexander's master degree requirements. The Conrad Weiser portion is shown here.

L. Lehman and Mr. Alexander examine some fired clay stacked in a large kiln.

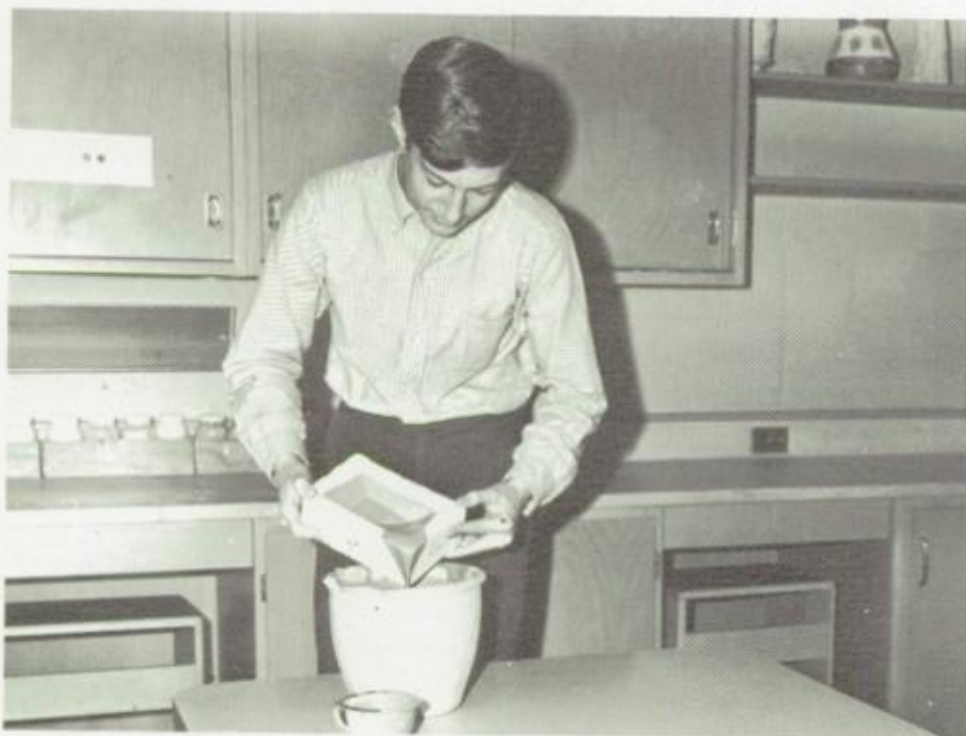

Linda carefully cleans a poured clay piece to prepare it for firing.

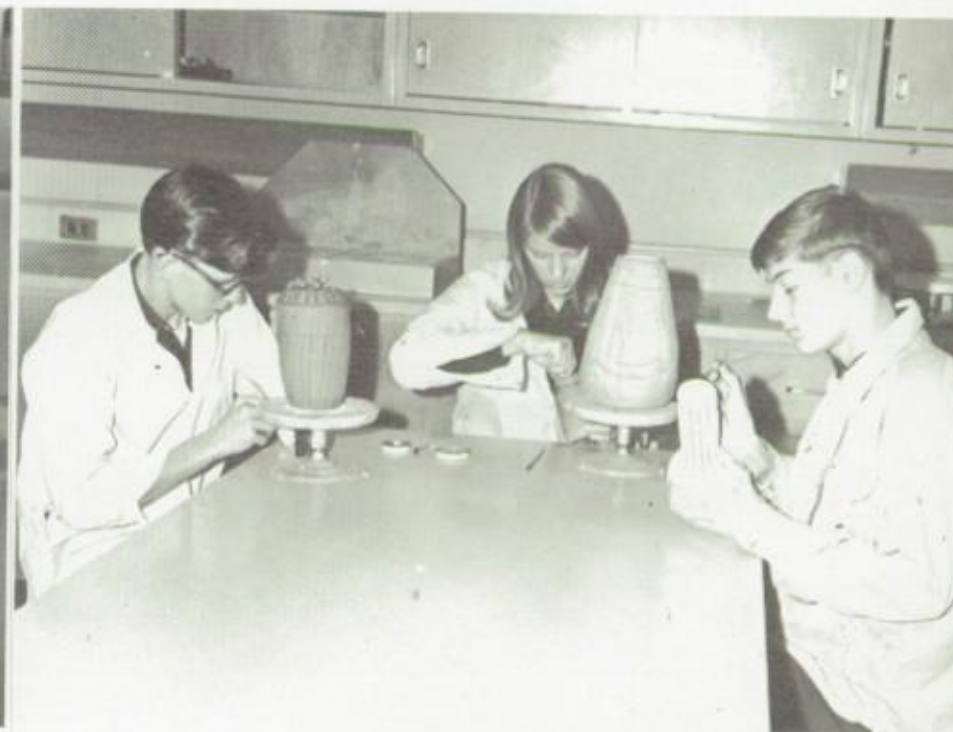

W. Boltz, D. Wartluft, L. Lehman, curriculum students, prepare the design for a ceramic pouring. A plaster mold will then be made.

Wartluft is "slip pouring." The clay is in thick liquid form. It will set for about 20 minutes.

Clay is poured back into its container. Clay clings to the plaster and becomes the object. It will be removed when it is dry.

After firing in the kiln (1900 degrees) it is hardened. Underglaze decoration is applied.

Students examine some finished pieces. They are stylized animals, highly glazed.

The finished product is artful, and highly prized by the students.

Creative Construction Stressed in Junior High Shop Courses.

Mr. J. Robert Gibson, instructor.

Grade 7 observes demonstration of wood filing and fastening.

(Below) Schaeffer, Cox, Stoudt, Stites, Frantz, and Mentzer of 12 I. A. examine cabinets being constructed.

(Below) D. Marks of grade 7 finishes his tie rack. At right, grade 8 drafting.

Local Industries Observed by I.A. Classes.

Mr. William Anthony, instructor.

II I. A. boys take the bus to Aluminum Alloy Co. in Sinking Spring.

M. Hartranft tests his skill at the metal lathe.

Actual shop production was observed such as mold making (above).

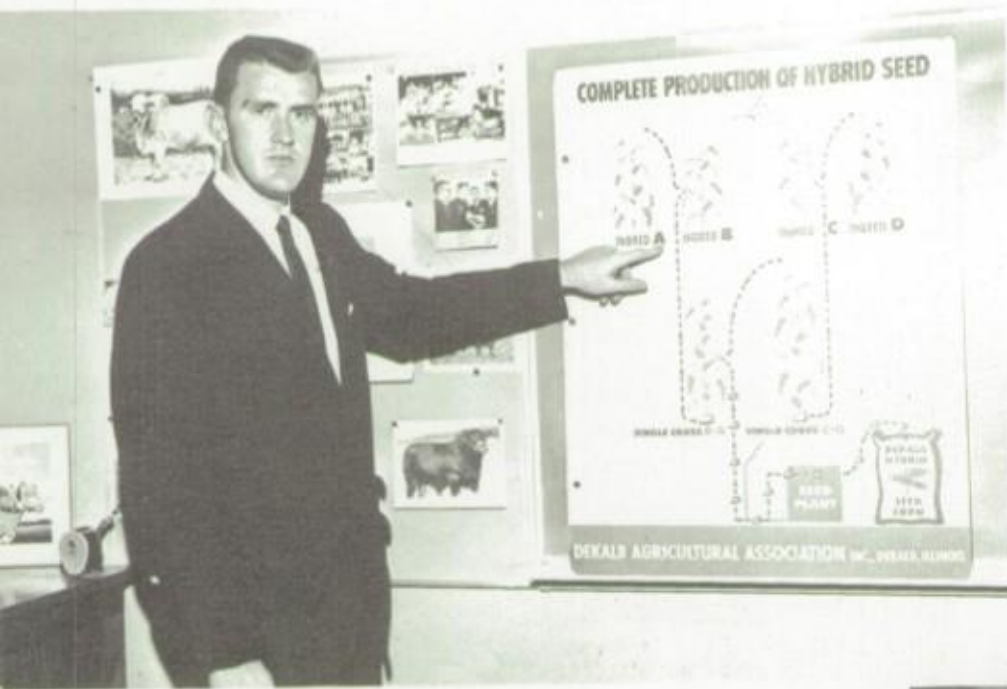

Preparing to melt aluminum for casting into a sand mold. John Hill is doing the work.

Lutz, the class "photo bug," snaps the group for the Weicon.

Back to class room for discussion and reports. Fred Lutz is speaking.

Agriculture Students Learn Woodworking as Part of Their Program

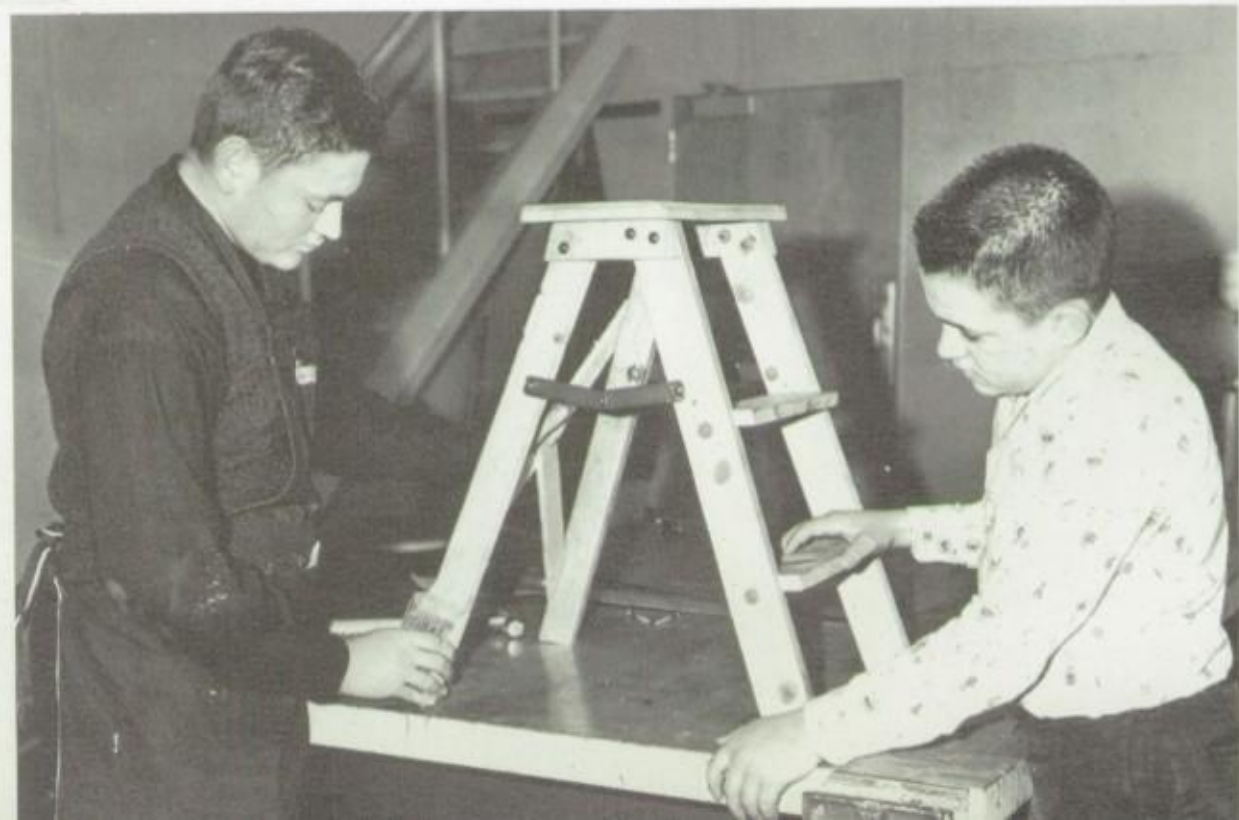

The course is under the direction of Mr. Laverne Barrett (at left).

N. Blatt and R. Knauer study plans for a required wood work project. Careful attention to the detail is necessary before starting to work. Estimate of the cost is also part of the procedure (Pictured at right).

After several shop sessions the project is finally finished. The step ladder is checked for strength and accuracy. The boys remarked, "We learned a lot while making this and it will be useful too. It's just what we needed."

New Machine Fascinates Agriculture Students

The addition of a powerful steam cleaner to the equipment benefits all of the ag. students. Many farm machines are brought to the shop for cleaning and painting. The cleaner has proved most useful and was certainly appreciated by young and adult farmers.

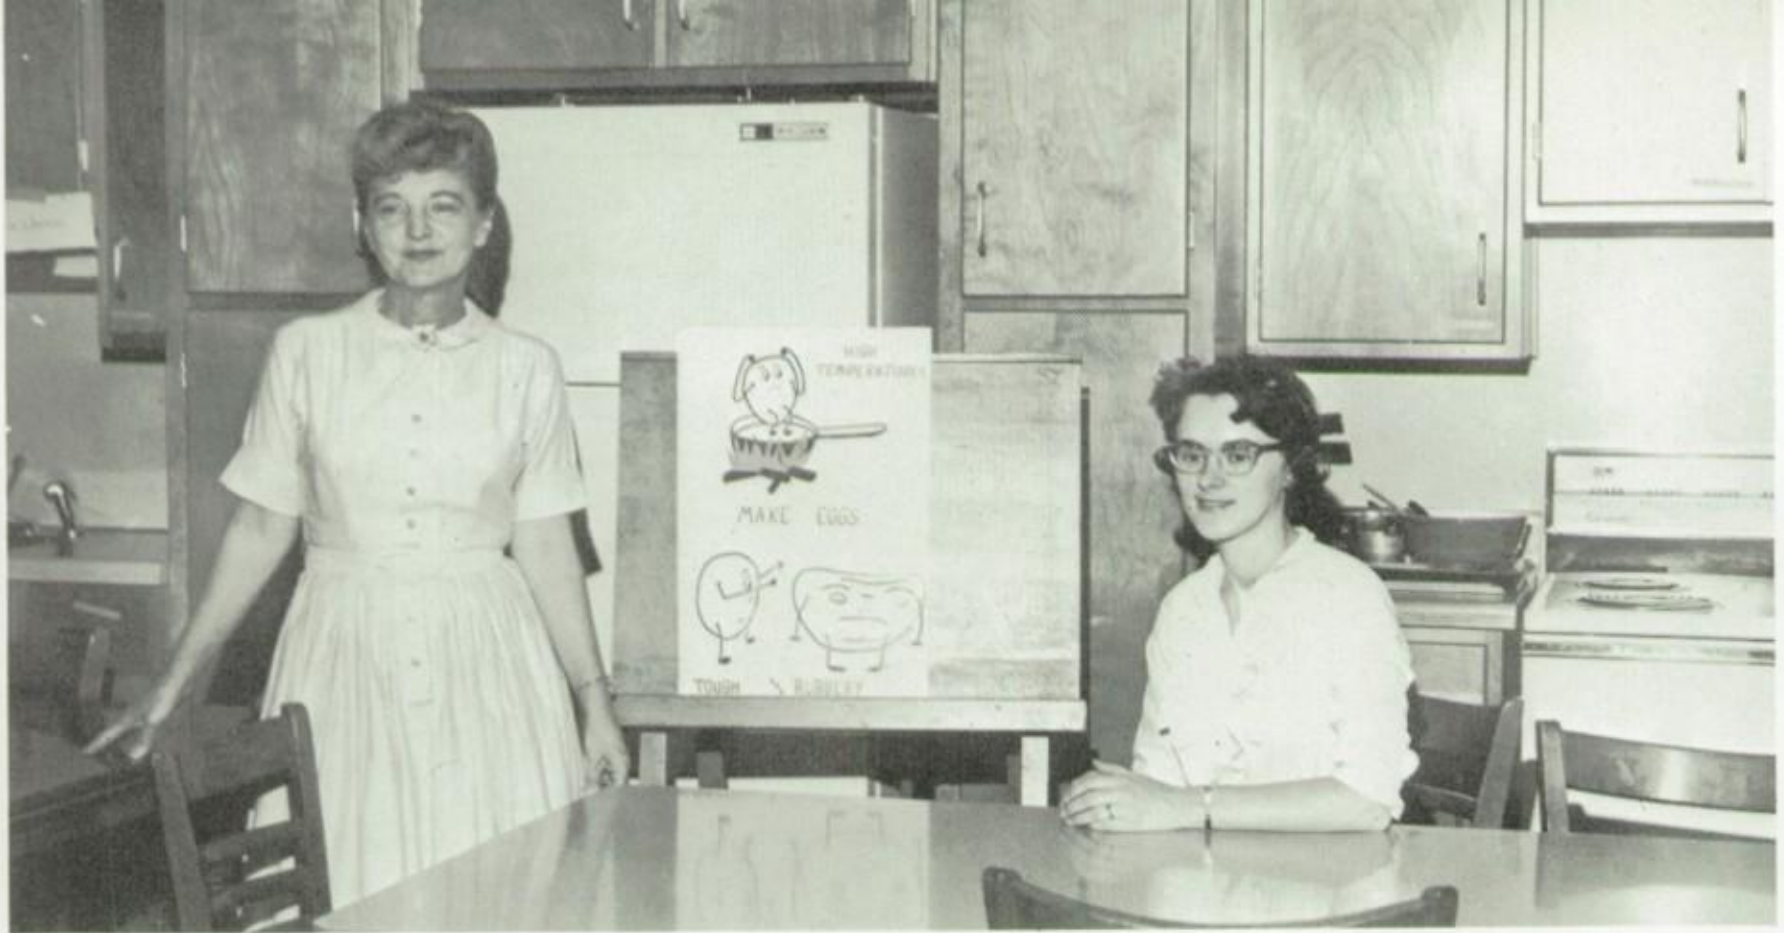

Mr. Barrett explains the use of the machine to T. Reifsnnyder, and H. Reber. Water and detergent is heated to make steam in the tank. The unit is portable and can be used anywhere. Most of the time it is used just outside the shop. A huge cloud of steam can be seen and scares the uninitiated! Tractors, wagons, spreaders, etc., are completely cleaned of grease and dirt in preparation for painting.

Tom Reifsnnyder demonstrates his skill with the new steam cleaner as Harvey Oxenreider keeps an eye on the safety valve which controls pressure.

Homemakers of Tomorrow in Action

Karen Gromis observes Beverly Bressler heating the deep well fryer.

Karen Smith and Joanne Gundrum wait eagerly to bite their teeth into the scrumptious chocolate cake as Connie Edgar prepares to cut it.

On a Hawaiian holiday Bonnie Saap offers a cup of tropical punch to Jane Masser and Angelica Huntley.

"Now make sure Baby is nice and warm," is F. Zettlemoyer's advice to K. Hafer, B. Bressler, L. Douglas, and K. Gromis.

It's a challenge to the ninth grade girls' creativeness and imagination to produce dresses that are all different even though they originate from the same pattern. This type of clothing construction gives the teacher an opportunity to demonstrate to the class step by step all the basic fundamentals necessary in the making of a dress.

Using various types of materials to make skirts and blouses appear different helps the seventh and eighth grade girls to develop originality in their ideas. The girls enjoy wearing the clothes they make.

After the sewing project is finished, the seventh grade girls will have units in baby-sitting and breakfast foods. The eighth grade girls will have units in good grooming and luncheon foods, and the ninth grade girls will have units in interior decorating and dinner foods.

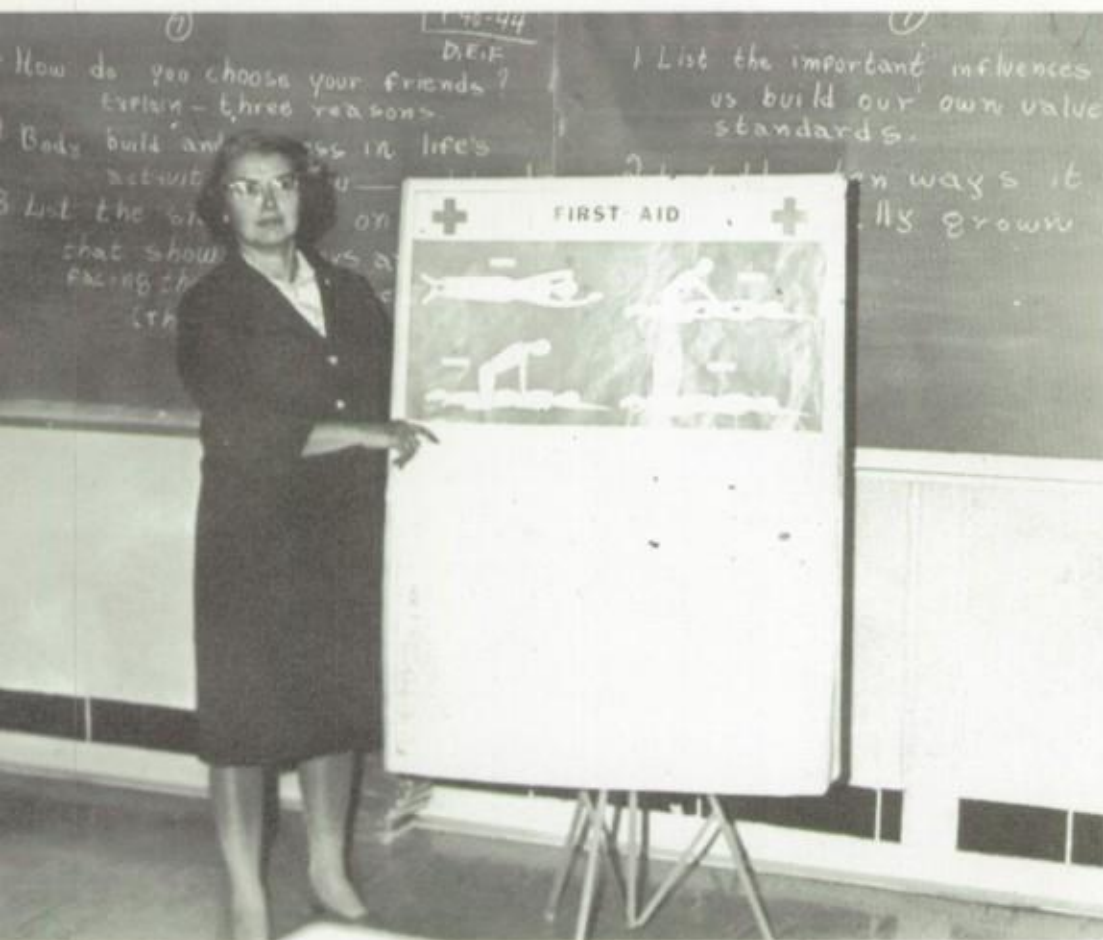

"A clean house is a happy house," is the motto of G. Lutz, F. Gundrum, and C. Leibig.

"First we put in the clothes, then the bleach," says F. Zettlemoyer to K. Hafer.

S. Cheeseman and D. Ollar observe as Pat Wentzel demonstrates how to sew a seam.

Mrs. Helen Krott
Health Instructor

Students are challenged with the responsibility of utilizing all the health benefits they have studied to maintain, or if necessary, improve their physical, mental and emotional health in future years.

Emphasis is placed on preventive attitude and health habits which are beneficial to the student. Advanced anatomy, practical first aid, and mental health are especially emphasized.

"Mentally and Physically We Should Be Healthy," Says Mrs. Krott.

C. Duffy, M. Rump, and B. Stoudt examine the skull of the skeleton to become more familiar with the skeletal system.

"Now these all go in here somewhere," says C. Kessler (L) to R. Sweigart (R) and B. Miller (C).

Some of Weiser's girl athletes have taken the initiative to form a chapter of the Girls' Athletic Association. This group will run a basketball tournament on February 25, featuring the winning teams from the girls' gym classes. Miss Unger also plans to have a tournament in volleyball at the end of that unit. This spring the senior girls will play badminton and golf and shoot archery. The boys have spent much of their time wrestling this winter.

Carmen Wagner and B. Gottshall go for a jump ball, as the others are posed ready for action in another exciting game.

Exercising
Is Fun
and Healthful
at C.W.!

Ricky Royer puts his arm muscles to use in an attempt to chin himself on the bar.

Exercises help to keep the girls fit and trim.

Music Improves Our Culture and Thus Improves Our Education

Our music education is under the fine leadership of Miss Murdough and Mr. Smith.

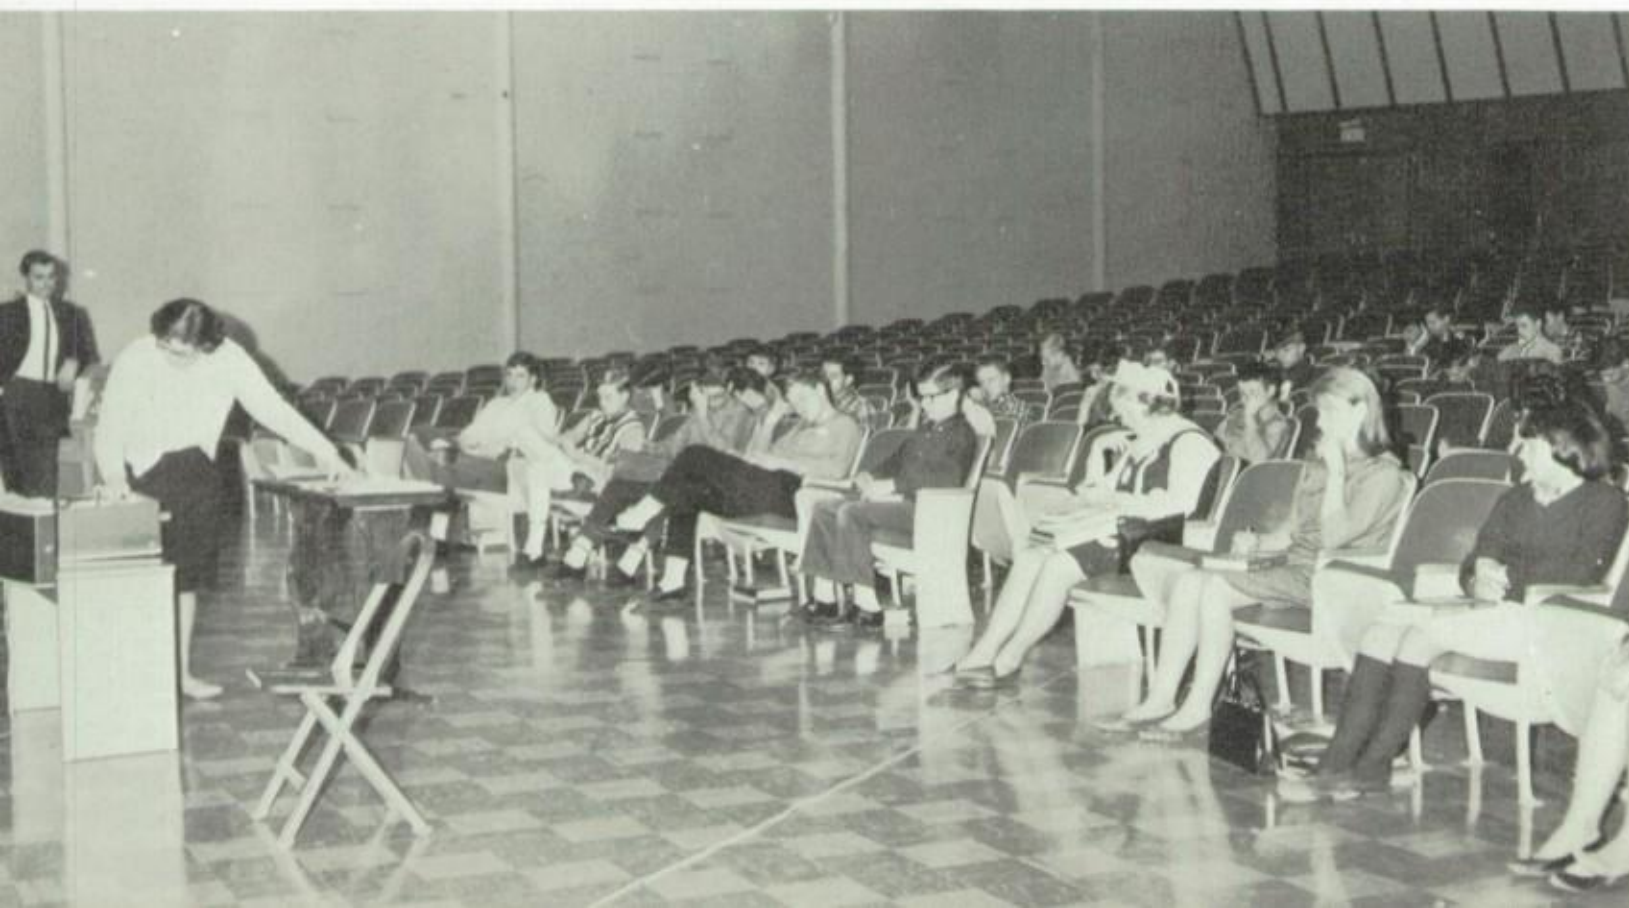

C. Fisher and R. Reber enjoy folk music during free periods.

E. Gundrum tries her skill at the tympani while W. Clifford, L. Frank, and S. Kissling watch.

Music appreciation brings different reactions from Miss Murdough's students.

The Library Provides a Source of Enjoyment as Well as for Reference Work.

The direction of our library is under the leadership of Mrs. Wertz.

The library is usually buzzing with activity.

C. Miller and M. Snyder use the card file, which is one of the many educational facilities of our library.

M. Moyer, G. Ebersole, and M. Drayton take care of business at hand while D. Beidler checks out a book.

Mrs. Grant, one of Weiser's guidance counselors, is a busy woman.

Mr. Shuman, also one of Weiser's guidance counselors, has much paper work to tackle.

Making Plans for Future Years

(L) Mrs. Grant explains something important to Billy Barnhart concerning his prospects for the future.

(R) Mr. Shuman helps Richard Hornberger solve his problems.

SAFETY FIRST IN DRIVER ED.

Mr. Snyder, Weiser's driver-ed teacher, stresses safety in the classroom and on the road.

G. Lutz and M. O'Brien prepare to go driving with Mr. Snyder.

Mr. Snyder uses a model to illustrate different traffic situations to D. Long and R. Lord.

CLASS MOTTO: "Knowledge Is the Eternal Power of Success"

CLASS COLORS: Forest Green and Winter White

CLASS FLOWER: White Tea Rose

The teas and hybrid teas are so named because their flowers often smell like tea or fruit. They come in many different colors, but never in blue. The white tea rose has petals resistant to rain and wind. Its exquisite white flowers give an air of sharpness and cleanliness in the garden or for arrangements in the house. In addition to its pure white color, this variety has another distinction of great importance. Floribunda blood has been infused into this strain in order to improve its vigor and hardiness. The result is a variety that will out-perform most other Hybrid Teas.

Jessica Hartranft

The development of this yearbook started during the beginning of last summer when five staff members, along with Mr. Gibson and Dr. Willar, visited the publishing plant in Cambridge, Maryland. Here members were shown how thousands of yearbooks similar to this one were produced on an assembly line basis. Four deadlines were established. All were met on time. The staff deserves credit for a job well done.

STANDING: Mr. Dinger, S. Leonard, K. Hess, L. Keppley, L. Hammer. SEATED: M. Gerhart, D. Zaring, J. Myer, L. Yocum, J. Hartranft, L. Haag, B. Gottshall, G. McPike, B. Blatt.

MR. DINGER, BUSINESS ADVISOR, INSTRUCTS THE GROUP IN SALESMANSHIP

IN APPRECIATION

We, the class of 1965, do hereby dedicate this yearbook to Mr. J. Robert Gibson for his 25 years of faithful service to the Weicon.

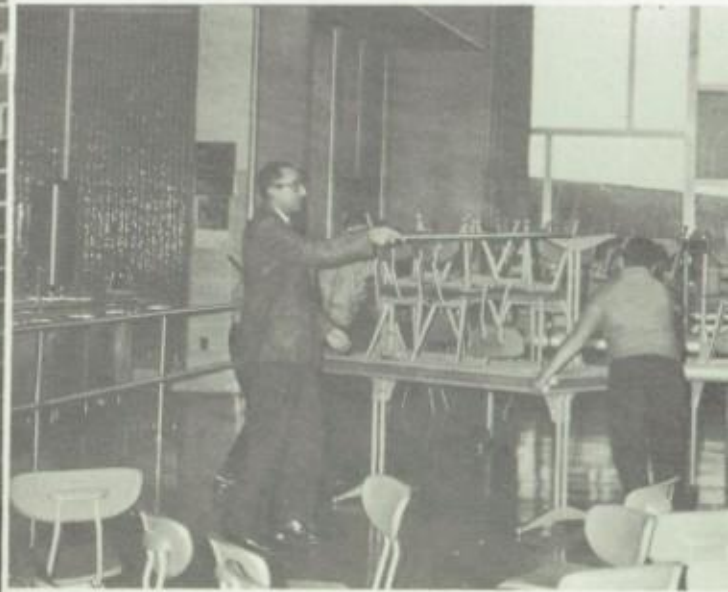

Mr. Gibson came to our area in 1940 as an athletic director and art teacher at the Womelsdorf school. He was also the art advisor to the yearbook staff in that year. In the past quarter of a century, he has given much of his time and efforts to various civic organizations. Among the many posts he has filled are scoutmaster of troop 157 Womelsdorf, water front director at Camp Shikellamy, Sunday School Superintendent and consistory member of Zion U.C.C., member of Womelsdorf borough council, and director of the Womelsdorf summer playground.

To those who have worked with him it has been a pleasure. For one rarely finds a man so dedicated and sincere in all of his endeavors.

BEWARE OF "THE EYE" THAT SEES ALL! (WEICON CAMERA)

The F. F. A. boys give Weiser's landscape a face-lifting.

Mr. Dinger plows his way through the plastic jungle.

The Weiser faculty, in character, enacts a typical melodrama for Weiser's Follies.

The 11th grade Industrial Arts Class observes the pouring of a sand mold at Aluminum Alloy plant, Sinking Spring.

Mr. Anthony explains to Marty Hartranft a blue print being shown by the plant's superintendent.

A CANDID GLIMPSE OF LIFE AT WEISER

The students at Weiser are very friendly -- just ask Marcia Ellsworth, Dave Fisher, and Susan Eshbach.

These "studious" seniors are preparing for another day of intellectual activity. G. Moyer, S. Lehman, D. Johnston, J. Gaston, and B. Henderson.

Mr. Crispin, a Womelsdorf Optimist is photographing Weiser's four representatives who went to Youth Day at Valley Forge. Jim Grimes, Jane Master, Anna Nagle, and Rick Yeager.

Chemistry can be enjoyable with Mr. Hardy.

"What's this -- beatniks at Weiser?" No, it's just J. Ranellone and C. Wagner getting ready for the play.

THE YOUNGER SET

"Youth is the season of hopes, enterprise, and energy, to a nation as well as an individual."

-- W. R. Williams.

Players listen intently to Coach Hartranft's half-time pep talk.

Conrad Weiser's soccer team will be minus these fifteen seniors next year, the greatest number lost by the soccer team in one season. STANDING: H. Henry, R. Wertz, J. Rabold, R. Yeager, and SITTING: P. Hertzog, G. Yiengst, D. Weins, J. Adams, J. Grimes, B. Werner, L. Hoffa, D. Frantz, J. Murdough, J. Reese, and J. Grimes take time out for a laugh with Coach Hartranft.

No, it's not a free-for-all. Senior boys are just loosening up before a game.

Plenty of action here against Wilson High as J. Rabold scores for Weiser, assisted by D. Frantz.

Greg Yiengst prepares for an offensive kick while his team gives him strong support.

STANDING: J. Gaenzle, D. Beidler, P. Keppley, O. Wentzel, Coach Seltzer, R. Preston, C. Rudolff, D. Gartner, K. Snyder. KNEELING: J. Bricker, S. Schaeffer, R. Hess, S. Snyder, R. Bricker, L. Benevit, P. Gartner, B. Wingenroth.

SCOUT HARRIERS GIVE IT THEIR BEST

In our initial year of cross country running, Captain Sterling Snyder led our Scouts to fourth place in the league.

The high point of the season was defeating Exeter by a narrow margin. Exeter later became State "B" Champs.

To conclude the season, Captain Sterling Snyder earned a third place medal in the conference meet at Governor Mifflin.

The team will lose five members at graduation. The members are Sterling Snyder, Randy Bricker, Robert Preston, Oliver Wentzel, and Dennis Beidler.

The top winners of the season are: Sterling Snyder, Randy Bricker, Paul Gartner, Larry Benevit, and Ron Hess.

On your mark, get set!

Go!

Strategy and Determination Make a Winning Team

The girls are on the alert and ready to go.

The players patiently wait for someone to gain custody of the ball.

Strategy counts in playing a good game. Here we see Miss Unger explaining some tricky maneuvers to the team.

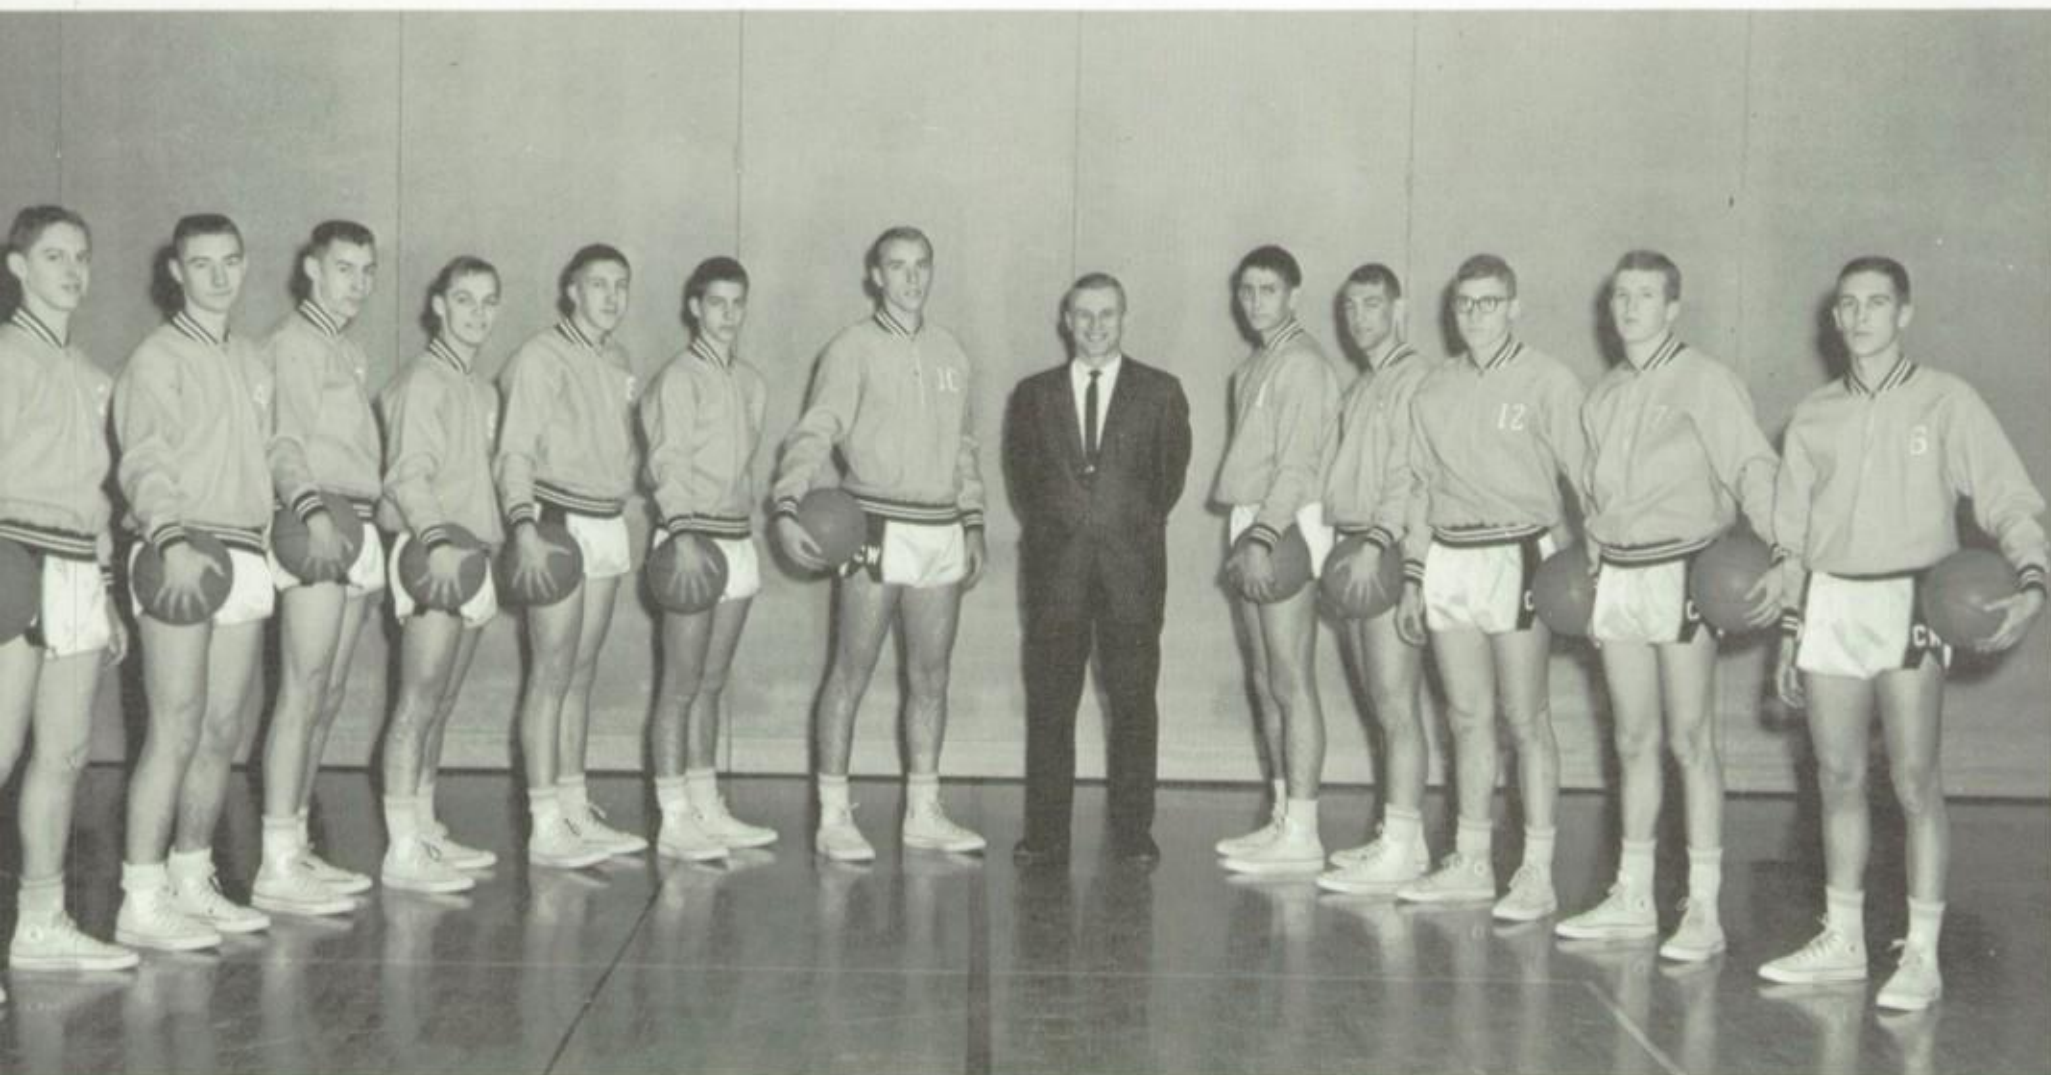

D. Loomis steals the ball from C. W.'s opponent as the rest of the team runs to help her.

C. Bodanza (4) and M. Krott (12) close in for the winning point.

WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPS

S. Burkhardt shoots one from the left side in the Muhlenberg game to add two more points towards the eventual victory.

M. Hartranft sinks the foul for the decisive point in the Hamburg-Weiser game.

Big Jim Murdough drops another one in, displaying the form which brought C. W. the Western Division championship.

Pandemonium reigns as M. Hartraft's foul shot swishes through the net after the buzzer.

The final score in the C. W. -Hamburg game shows Weiser won by one point, thanks to M. Hartranft's free throw after the buzzer.

J. Murdough jumps for Weiser at the beginning of the fourth quarter of the Hamburg game. The scoreboard in the background shows the closeness of the entire game. Other C. W. players are: O. Wentzel, R. Yeager, M. Hartranft, and B. Wertz.

The Weiserettes finished first in the western Division. Their determination and hard work under the coaching of Miss Unger proved very rewarding as they moved to the top, beating some very tough teams.

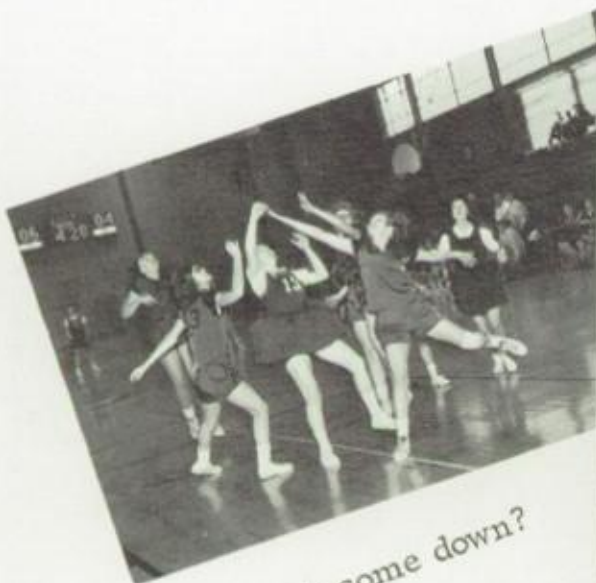

A fighting spirit, much practice, and good instruction from Coach Unger add up to victory for our Weiserettes.

WEISERETTES ARE VICTORIOUS

Will it come down?

Happy and proud are these six senior Weiserettes as they discuss the championship season. The senior girls are: L. Porter, L. Koch, L. Bailey, R. Anderson, L. Baum, and G. Ebersole.

Onward and upward!

J.V. Cheerleaders: A. Reese, B. Payne, K. Winand, M. Ellsworth, B. Lutz, C. English, E. Krott.

Pony Cheerleaders: 1st ROW: J. Zimmerman, C. Hicks, S. Stricker. 2nd ROW: J. Schnader, G. Eiceman, N. Hassler.

Varsity Cheerleaders (FRONT TO REAR): A. Nagle, G. Sheetz, G. Brossman, V. Steffy, S. McFee, C. Bodanza.

Fight Team, Fight!

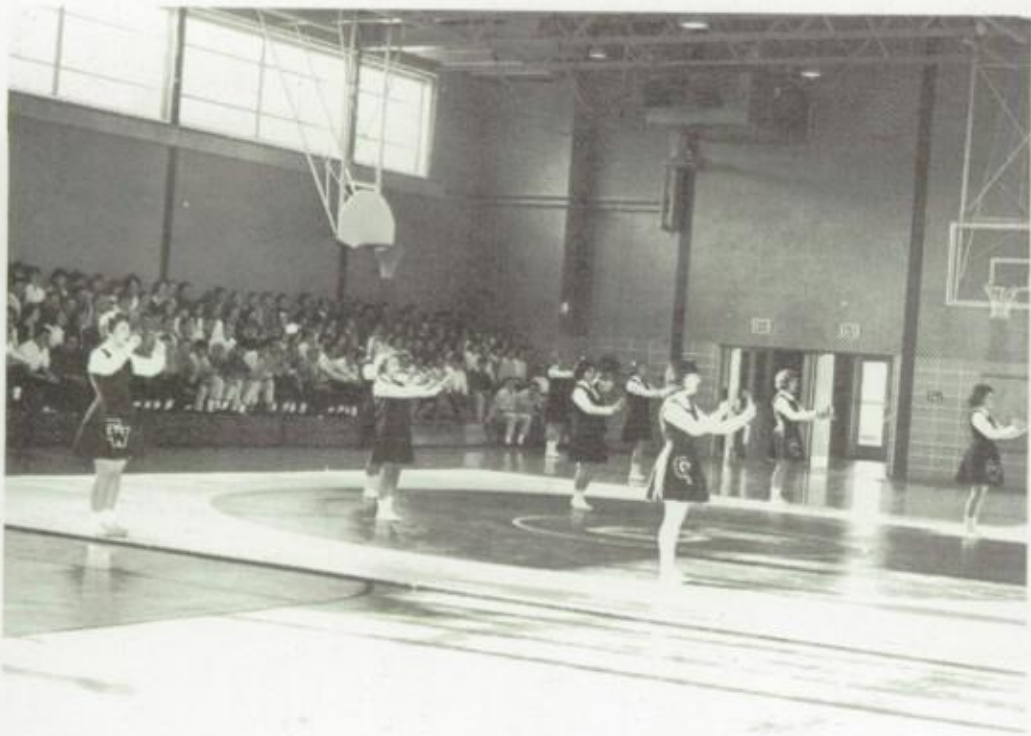

The Cheerleaders add spirit and enthusiasm to the basketball games. Practicing once weekly, they learn new cheers to arouse the interest in the team. Coached by Mrs. Krott, the cheerleaders make a proud showing at all games.

Our team is red hot!

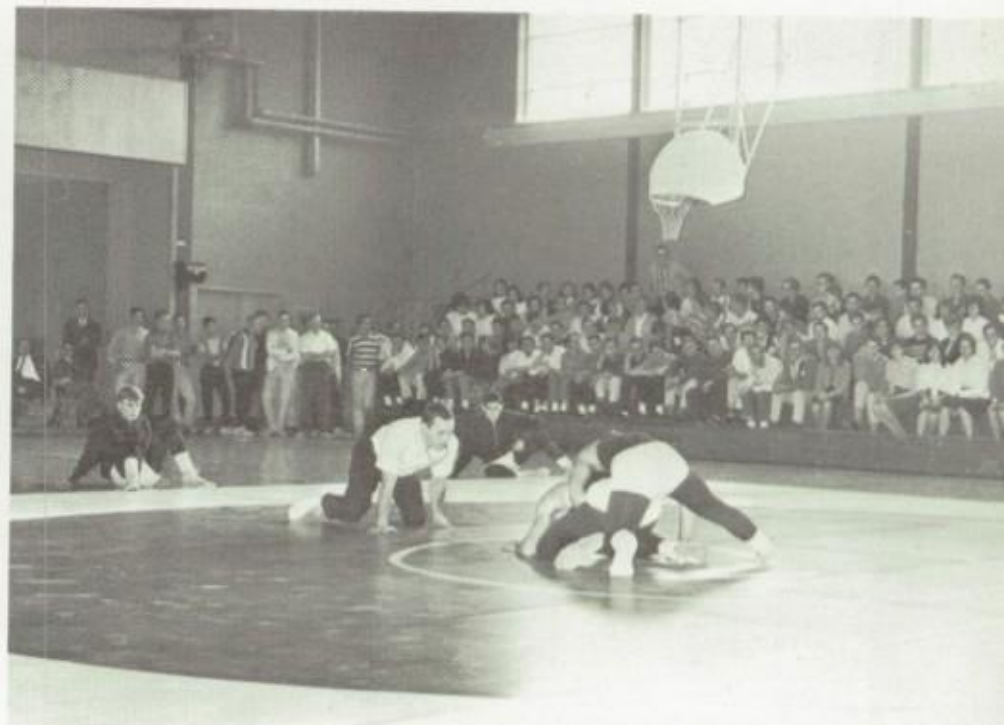

The winning point for Weiser!

Weiser Students Show Enthusiasm at Sports Events

The J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders help to build spirit in the students during a pep rally. They are standing on Weiser's wrestling mat which is new this year.

Wrestling coach, Mr. Schmoyer, watches closely as P. Hertzog and E. Pieller wrestle at a pep rally. Philip won this match, which meant that he would represent our school in a match that night.

When the boys score, the cheerleaders aren't the only ones who yell.

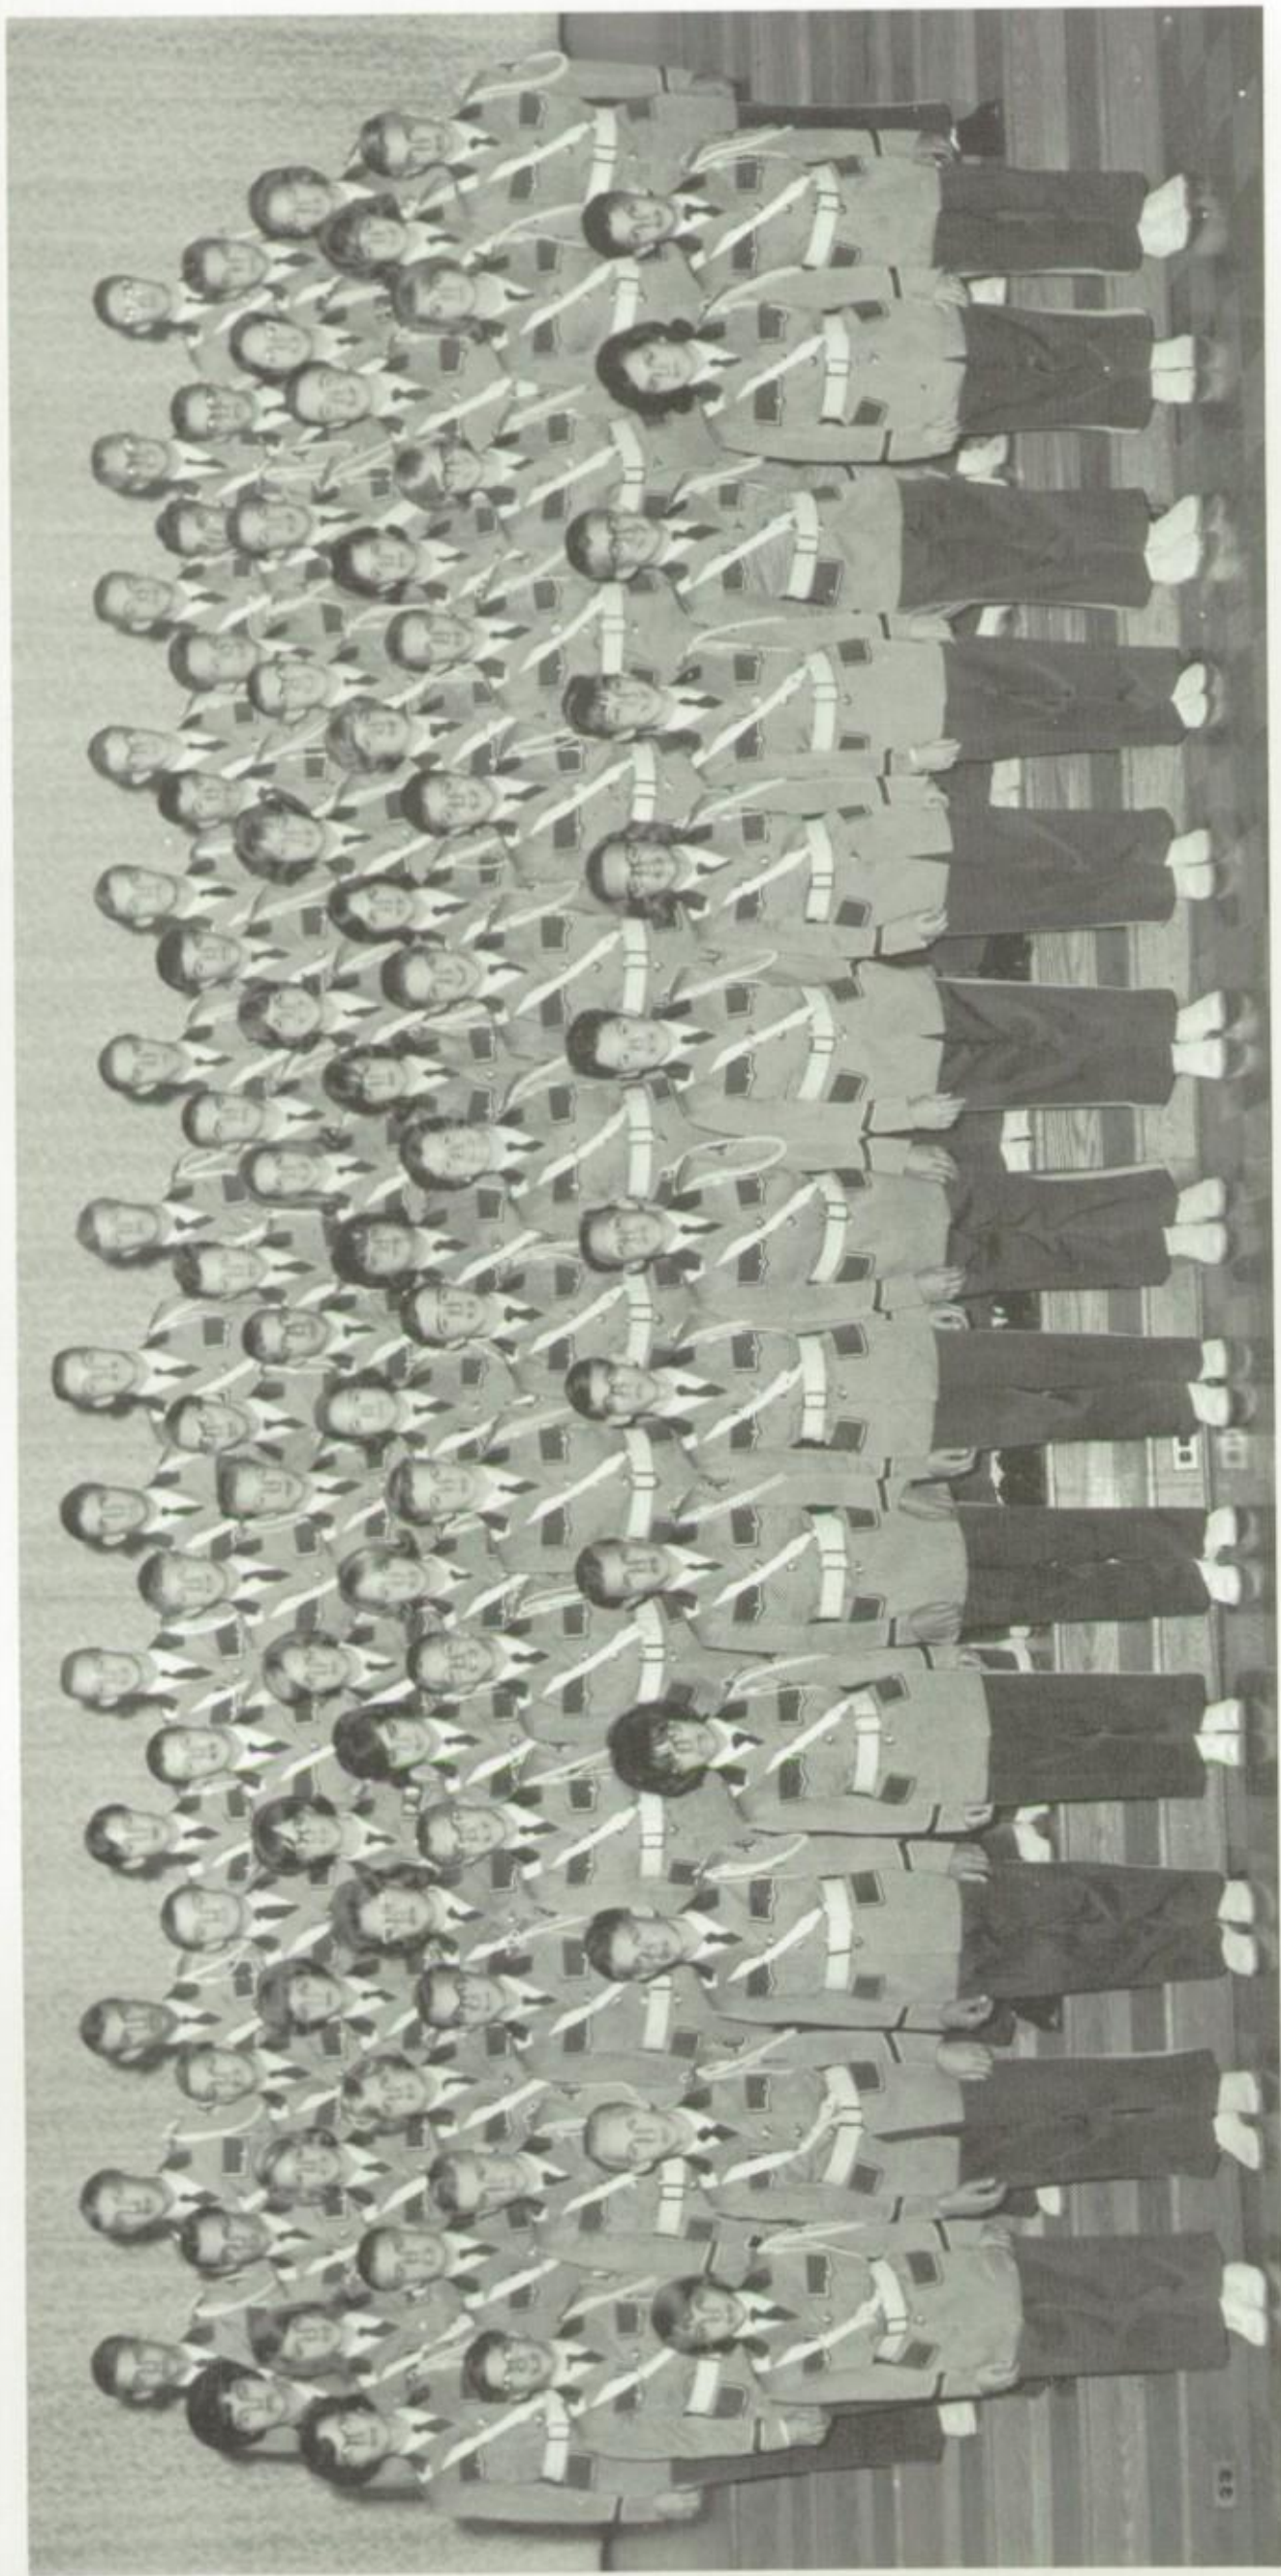

D. Loomis, L. Ressler, L. Keppley, and M. Krott add color and dignity when we sing our National Anthem at basketball games.

These Junior boys took the initiative to get special vests and form their own cheering section.

The pep band, under the direction of Mr. Smith, provides entertainment and arouses enthusiasm at our basketball games.

JR. CHORUS GETS BIGGER AND BETTER EACH YEAR

INTERMEDIATE CHORUS — OVER 78 STRONG

"TAKE HER, SHE'S MINE!"

The entire cast lines up for a final curtain call.

There are times which try the best fathers . . .

After long weeks of preparation and rehearsals, the Conrad Weiser Harlequins, under the capable direction of Mrs. Norton Behney, presented a fine performance of "Take Her, She's Mine."

The main characters were: Tish Worley, Darryl Werner, Sally McFee, Anna Nagle, Bruce Werner, and Barton Henderson.

A boy from Yale, hmm

Good-By, Alex
(Richard Fisher)

"Michael, row the boat ashore.
Hallelujah."

I thought Molly (Tish Worley) might like to help deliver flowers.

"Kickingly, pantingly, thrusting . . ."

The Newspaper Staff works diligently each month to edit the school newspaper, the Interpreter.

These librarians work hard each day in the library doing such jobs as keeping the book shelves in order, taking care of the "in and out" books and helping Mrs. Wertz all they can.

CLUBS PROVIDE EXPERIENCE FOR THE FUTURE

F. B. L. A. helps these future secretaries to be proficient in their work.

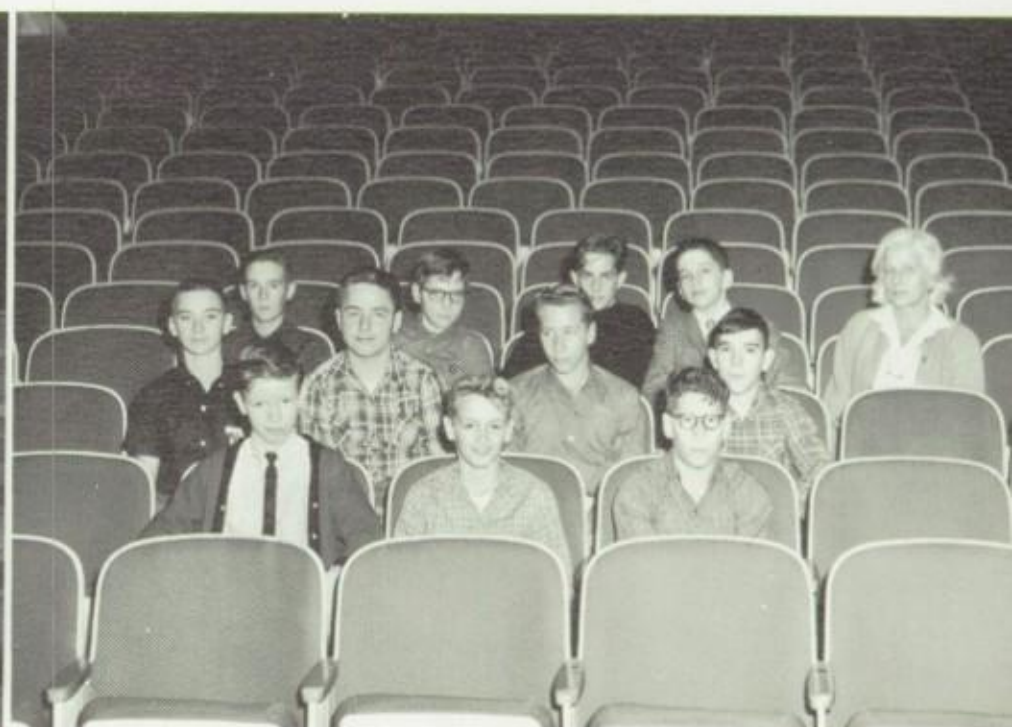

These clubs are for those students who wish to further their knowledge of science. Pictured above are Science Seminar and Future Scientists, sponsored by Mr. Schofer, Mr. Hardy, and Mr. Breininger. Many interesting experiments are conducted such as rocket launchings.

C.W. TURNS OUT THE EINSTEINS OF THE 70's

The S. M. S. S. engages in such varied activities as cave exploring. Mr. Breininger and Mr. Schofer conduct the expeditions.

The math clubs provide opportunities not given in the classroom. Mr. Hess and Mrs. Dinsmore provide challenges for Math Seminar and Junior Math Club.

National Honor Society Opens Its Doors to Twelve New Members

Old members welcome this year's inductees into the fold.

Mr. Rohrbach addresses members before culminating their membership with the presentation of their certificates.

Officers: J. Master -- President
L. Koch -- V. President
V. Steffy -- Secretary
D. Bean -- Treasurer
F. Shearer -- Historian

Parents and teachers of N. H. S. members enjoy the tea presented after the assembly.

Mr. Hess and V. Steffy enjoy the food and the atmosphere.

M. Prickett helps herself to some of the tasty food arranged so attractively by the mothers.

Our Future Community Leaders Get Practice

The Senior High Student Council, shown above, and the Junior High Council, below, have again this year done much to improve the school. They have sponsored programs to encourage better student-teacher relations and increase school spirit. In addition, they have once more assumed responsibility for the snack bar. The Senior High Council is sponsored by Dr. Willar, and the Jr. High Council is sponsored by Mr. Shuman.

THESE CLUBS ARE A GREAT HELP IN

The members of the Junior Future Homemakers of America are preparing for their future as housewives.

The Future Nurses learn fundamental nursing procedures from Mrs. Werner.

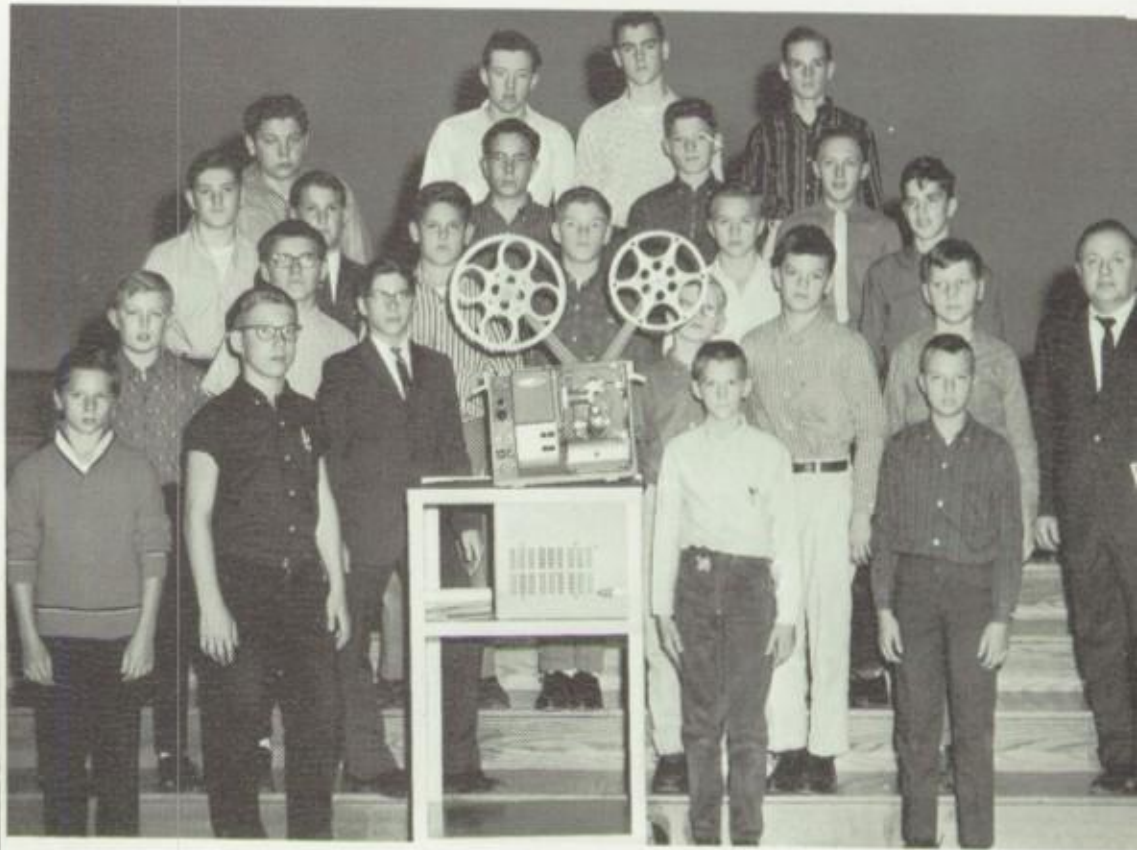

The Senior F. H. A. cooks many tempting dishes to display to the students.

These Junior and Senior Future Farmers, assisted by Mr. Barret, aid the school with many worthwhile projects. The clubs add interest, sociability, and progress to the program.

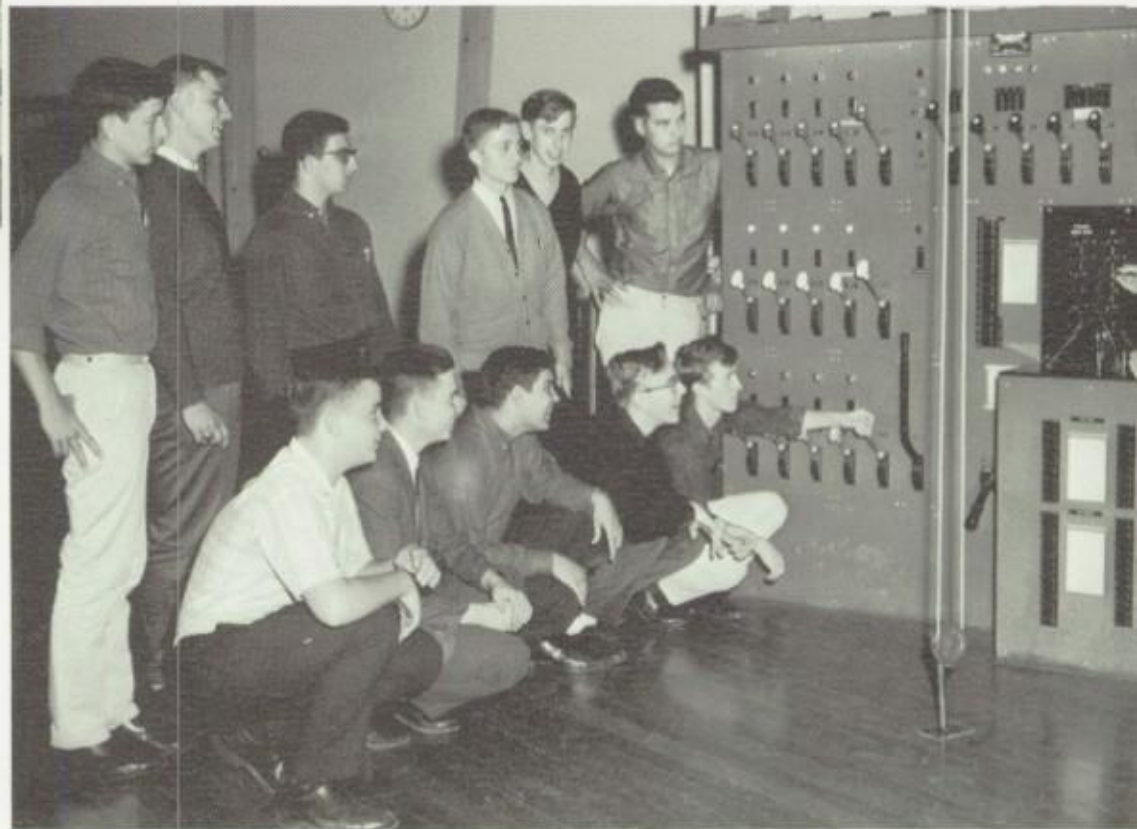

THE FUTURE WORK OF STUDENTS

The Junior Audio Visual Club, aided by Mr. Himmelberger, learns to operate equipment in order to assist teachers in the showing of films to their classes.

The Senior Audio Visual Club, aided by Mr. McComsey, is always on call any time of the school day to show films to any class. These interesting educational films augment the textbook and increase the students' understanding of material.

Although the members of the Senior Stage Crew Club are seldom seen, the show couldn't go on without them. The complicated light panel is being demonstrated by Mr. Gosch.

The duties of the Jr. Stage Crew Club include changing scenery, curtain arrangements, spotlighting, and the gathering and placing of stage properties. The curtain balance weight system is being shown by Mr. Anthony.

The Choraleers render many entertaining musical numbers at our assemblies.

ASSEMBLIES ADD SPICE TO C.W. CURRICULUM

Our jet pilot, Bruce Werner, is all set for take-off; all he needs is the plane.

Anna Nagle receives her first course in parachuting.

Janet Brenaman entertains a poor mountain family with a Christmas ballad, highlighting the 9th grade play, "The Night Before Christmas."

A doll is being delivered by Santa Claus (Harry Zerman), bringing pleasure to a poor mountain girl (Elsa Krott).

Mr. Spang presents the Republican view on the forthcoming November election.

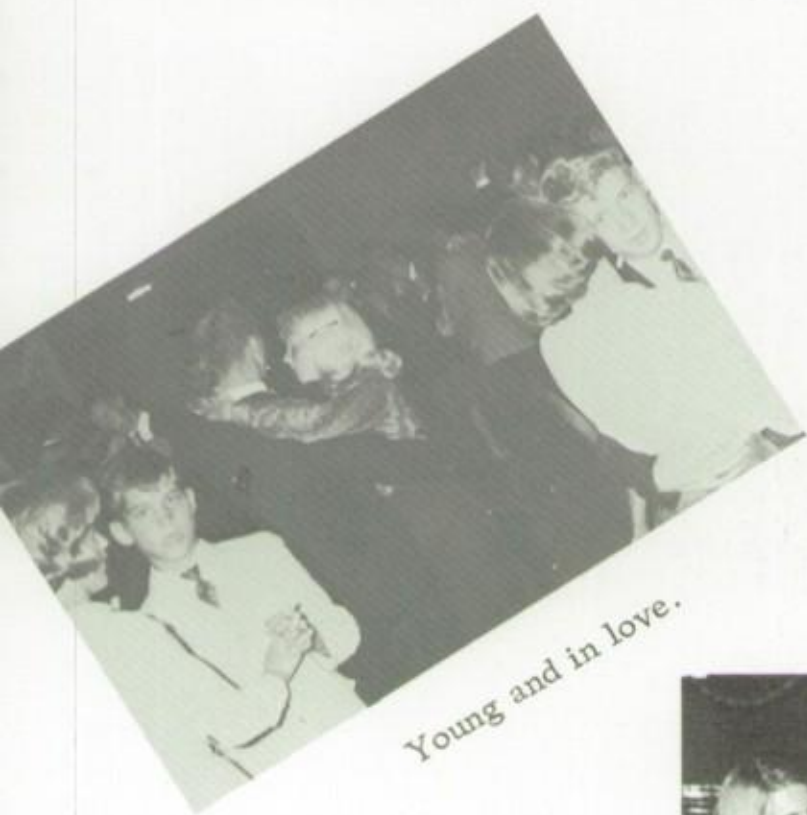

Rev. Lutz delivers a thought-provoking Thanksgiving message.

A LOOK AT WEISER'S DANCES

"No partners! May as well sit down," says Bib.
